CURE THAT HEADACHE.

Beautiful weather, isn't it? Just the sort to make a man want to get out in the woods with his best co-ed friend. Would be fine if you could do that this afternoon, wouldn't it? But suppose you can't. Perhaps she has a headache, or a mid-semester, or some other awful thing. What will you do in that case?

Here's a suggestion: Get busy and write a song for that Ames game next Saturday. This is just the sort of weather to inspire the proper sort of stuff, and it will be a task of pleasure. Then, when it is finished, hunt her can tell? Kansas was so thought in in 1908, but the result was otherwise. Nebraska teams have been fooled in the past, as have Nebraska students as a whole. Victory over Ames is possible, ay—probable, but it is not certain. Cornhuskers, team and students, must remember this fact and take care. Ames has the same feeling towards Nebraska this week that Nebraska had towards Kansas last week. The Aggies feel that the chances are against them, yet that very knowledge makes them fiercely determined to use superhuman efforts against Coach Cole's men.

Possible? Of course. Probable? Seemingly so. But not by any means a certainty.

SCHOOLS INSPECTED.

First List Approved by Accredited Schools Committee.

The committee on accredited schools has approved the first list of accredited high schools of the state. Other schools will be taken up as the inspection by Inspector Reed and Assistant Inspector Voss is finished. The schools

Y. W. C. A. MEETINGS.

Program for This Week Has Been Announced.

A schedule for this week's Y. W. C. A. noon meetings has been announced. It is as follows:

- Tuesday—Miss Grace Richards.
- Wednesday—Miss R. Manning.
- Thursday—Miss Hazel Vibbard.
- Friday—Dr. Ella Walker.

Registrations in the Y. W. C. A. Bible study classes has almost closed and the work in the courses is progressing rapidly. The class under Rev. S. Mills Hayes, "Prophets," which was to have commenced this week, is delayed on account of his absence from the city.

The student volunteer band was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. DerKinderen last evening. The meeting of the regular weekly session was held at this place instead of the association rooms. November 13-19, all of next week will be observed throughout the world as the world's week of prayer for both the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A.

on the first list are all four-year schools, granting sufficient credits for entrance into the regular colleges of the university. They are: Albion, Arapahoe, Ashland, Atkinson, Auburn, Aurora, Broken Bow, Central City, Crete, Emerson, Fairbury, Geneva, Harvard, Holdrege, Kearney, Lexington, Lincoln, McCook, Madison, Neligh, North Platte, Nebraska City, Nelson, Norfolk, Oakdale, Omaha, Pawnee City, St. Paul, Seward, Sidney, Scotts Bluff, Schuyler, Stanton, Superior, Sutton, Teachers' College Model school, Tecumseh, Valentine, Wahoo, Wilber.

KOMENSKY CLUB MEETS.

Bohemian Students Have a Jolly Meeting at the "Komensky House."

About fifty were present at the last Komensky meeting, which was held at the "Komensky House," 319 South 26th street. To most of the guests it was their first acquaintance with the attractive home of the Bohemian girl students, who certainly made all feel "at home." The "Komensky-made kolaches" and other characteristic dishes served, conjured up delightful visions of home and mother.

The club was pleasantly surprised by the news that a new Komensky society, with a charter membership of fifty-two, had been organized the evening before at Clarkson, Nebraska. Two new members were admitted. It was decided to represent the club at the "County Fair" by giving the Bohemian folk dance.

Kocian, the Bohemian violinist who played at the Oliver Thursday, sent an expression of thanks to the club for its floral offering. It was the pleasure of most of the members to meet the virtuoso after the concert and to enjoy his friendly words and joviality.

After the business meeting, the club enjoyed a musical and literary program. At the invitation of Rev. Weatherly of All Souls' church the society will meet at his home Friday evening, November 18.

Patten to Found a Chair.

Chicago, Ill.—Dr. Arthur Edwards has announced the gift of $200,000 by James A. Patton, former board of trade operator, to found a chair of experimental pathology in Northwestern university medical school.

The purpose chiefly is the study and experiment of tuberculosis and pneumonia. The gift was inspired directly by the death from tuberculosis recently of George Patten, brother of the grain operator.

Illinois University Visitors.

A delegation from the University of Illinois recently visited the agricultural college and experiment station of the university. This delegation consisted of Dean E. Davenport of the college of agriculture; A. P. Grout of Winchester, Ill.; F. L. Hatch of Spring Grove, Ill.; F. J. Mann of Gilmart, Ill.; C. O. Ewing of Decatur, Ill.; R. Allen of Delevan, Ill.; H. J. Sconce of Sidell, Ill., and W. N. Rudd of Morgan Park, Chicago. Mr. Hatch and Mr. Grout represented the trustees of the university, and the other gentlemen of the committee represented the several state agricultural organizations, which feel the necessity of providing more adequate facilities for the University of Illinois than they now have for purposes of instruction.

The annual exhibit of the Nebraska Art association will open at the university art gallery on November 12. The pictures have been selected from the works of the most prominent artists by Miss Cora Parker, who writes most enthusiastically of her success in securing the co-operation and interest of famous painters. It is expected the exhibit will equal fully, if not surpass, the best of those of previous years. The collection will be in the city until after the meeting of the state teachers' association.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad company has been cited by the railway commission to appear November 10 and show cause why it shall not be ordered to restore train service between Falls City and Omaha as such service existed prior to August 1.

up and read it to her in lieu of the trip to the woods. Maybe it will ease the headache and help out the exam.

On any case, try it. The team needs the songs—and you need those two reserved seats which Manager Eager is offering for the best contribution.

POSSIBLE? OR PROBABLE?

For the third time in four years the Cornhusker football team has the Missouri Valley conference championship almost within its grasp. A victory over Ames next Saturday will clinch the title for the Nebraska team; a defeat will tangle up the conference in a three-cornered tie. Victory is clearly a possibility, a strong possibility. But just how much of a probability may it be?

Three years ago the Ames game was the most critical game of the Nebraska schedule. It was in that year that Johnnie Weller booted the ball over the goal in the last few minutes of play, thereby pulling a ten to nine victory out of seeming defeat. After that it was easy. The Cornhuskers went down to Kansas and won 16 to 6, and the Missouri Valley championship was theirs.

Again in 1908 the Cornhuskers were doped as sure winners. They played a game of remarkable strength against the powerful Gophers and won a practical victory by holding the Minnesotans to a 0 to 0 tie. Cornhusker stock was soaring. Ames was defeated 23 to 17, Iowa 11 to 8, and the championship seemed surely ours. Then came the Jayhawkers, and when the tale of that day was done, Nebraska had handed the title to Kansas on a silver platter engrossed with the tribute "20 to 5."

Thus for two years the Cornhuskers were in a situation similar to that of the present season. In one case they won; in the other they lost. In the following year, the championship was plainly scarcely to be hoped for.

But this year, doughty Kansas is already defeated, and Ames seems to be easy. Easy? Seemingly so; but who
