TEACHERS' MEETINGS NEXT

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM FOR INSTRUCTORS PLANNED.

NOTED SPEAKERS HAVE BEEN SECURED

ALL BANQUETS WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Pedagogues Will Have Chance to View the Campus and Take in Haskell Football Game.

The annual State Teachers' association, which it has been the fortune of Lincoln to receive through the state university, will assemble in Lincoln next week, November 23, 24 and 26.

Great preparations are being made for the reception of an unusually large attendance, and one or two entirely new features will be introduced into the session. Arrangements have been made to have regular excursions over the university campus to visit such buildings as the museum, art hall, and library. If the contemplations of those officiating prove correct, the association will have an exceptionally successful meeting this year, and experience a substantial increase in attendance from the session of last year.

The association is this year under the supervision of N. M. Graham. On his staff are Chas. W. Taylor, vice-president; W. T. Stockdale, secretary, and A. H. Staley, treasurer. The central theme of the program this year will be "Moral Lines in Education." A selection of many talented speakers has been made who will address the assembly relative to this subject.

Secure Noted Speakers.

Every effort has been made by the officers of the association to secure for it the most noted and talented speakers of the county. Among some that will appear are William E. Chancellor, a recognized authority on questions of interest to high schools and universities; Frank A. Crane of Chicago, a gentleman of repute as a platform orator, who will address the assembly on Thanksgiving day; Edward Howard Griggs, author of "The New Humanism," "Moral Education," and "The Use of the Margin"; Herman Harrel Horne of New York City, a man versed on moral and ethical questions, who will deliver several addresses; Henry Suzallo, head of the department of philosophy of education in the teacher's college of Columbia university, the editor of the Riverside Press Educational Monographs; M. Adelaide Holton, supervisor of primary work in Minneapolis, who promises to be a source of instruction to the primary teachers of the state; Henry Purmont Eames, a musician and lecturer of international reputation; and William M. Davidson of the Omaha schools, who needs no introduction to the members of the association.

To obviate many inconveniences, the management have decreed that admission to both the general and special entertainments may be had only by the presentation of a membership badge. These badges may be obtained for one dollar.

Industrial Exhibition.

In connection with the association, an exhibition of industrial work accomplished by the different schools over the state will be made at the Auditorium. This is not a new feature to the association, but is one that always attracts considerable attention. As an incentive for the more industrious, premiums amounting to $250 will be awarded to successful competitors.

As an introduction to the regular session of the association, three distinct banquets will be held Wednesday evening, November 23, in which several university faculty members

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED FOR TUESDAY

Part I.

"The Pilgrims".....Chadwick University Chorus, String Quintette and Organ.

"The breaking waves dashed high On a stern ad rock bound coast, And the woods against a stormy sky Their giant branches tossed.

And the heavy night hung dark, The hills and waters o'er, When a band of Exiles moored their bark On the wild New England shore.

Not as the Conqueror comes, They, the true-hearted came, Not with the roll of the stirring drums And the trumpet that sings of fame;

Not as the flying come In silence and in fear, They shook the depths of the forest's gloom With their hymns of lofty cheer.

Amidst the storm they sang, And the stars heard, and the sea, And the sounding aisles of the dim woods rang With the anthem of the free.

And the ocean eagle soared From his nest by the white wave's foam, And the rocking pines of the forest roared, This was their welcome home.

There were men with hoary hair Amid that Pilgrim band.

Why had they come to wither there, Afar from childhood's land?

There was a woman's fearless eye, Lit by her love's deep truth, There was manhood's brow serenely high, And the fiery heart of youth.

What sought they thus afar, Bright jewels from the mine, The wealth of seas, the spoils of war, They sought a faith's pure shrine.

Ay, call it holy ground, The soil, the soil where first they trod, They have left unstained what there they found, Freedom to worship God.

FIVE FOOTBALL MEN BEHIND

QUINTET OF CORNHUSKERS MUST GET BUSY AT ONCE.

CANNOT PLAY UNTIL WORK IS UP

THREE BATTLES ON THE PROGRAM FOR TODAY.

Freshies and the Seniors—Lincoln and Omaha Second Teams—Freshies and the Varsity.

Reports show that "King" Cole is handicapped. As a result of the reports filed for the mid-semester five of his proteges are in the clutches of the delinquency committee and unless the back work is cleared up they will be out of the line-up when Thanksgiving day rolls around.

Steps will be taken by each of the five Cornhuskers to get their delinquencies cleared up at once. It is necessary to do this in order that they can get into the Turkey Day battle against the Indians. Some special examinations may have to be taken, or some of the men may have to spend the hours required for practice in the library or laboratory to get straight with the board.

All Kinds of Football.

Football of all kinds and degrees may be seen at the athletic field this afternoon. Starting at 1 o'clock there will be three games, enough to satisfy even the most enthusiastic rooter in Lincoln. The three games are to be: Lincoln high school second team vs. Omaha high school second team; senior class vs. freshman class, for class championship; freshmen scrubs vs. varsity.

The first game, between the two high school second teams, promises to be a fast little scrap. Both teams are made up of men who have played the game, many of them in games with the first team, but not often enough to put them on the first team. The same bitter rivalry exists between the second teams as does between the first teams, and each eleven will put up the best kind of football it knows how.

Both Expect to Win.

The second game goes without saying. Both teams expect to win. As far as the merits of the two teams is concerned, there is nothing more to say. Their respective abilities were proven last Monday. The outcome of the game between seniors and freshmen will determine the class championship for the year. The winning team will be awarded sweaters bearing the class numerals.

As a fitting close for the gridiron carnival will come the clash between freshmen and regulars. The freshmen expect to carry off the laurels, or at least to give the varsity a run for its money. The varsity men are not thinking much about it. The freshmen have a powerful team—that is, in practice. What they can do in a regular game is yet to be decided, for today they have their first opportunity to line up for a real game.

Sophs Forfeit to Freshies.

It might be well to explain how the freshmen happen to be playing the seniors, when they were defeated by the sophomores in last Monday's game. Before going out for the game the freshmen made sure that everything was in proper form and that all men were eligible. The sophomores did not. When the battle was over and the sophomores were patting themselves on the back, someone inquired whether or not all the sophomores were eligible. Then it happened. When the smoke had cleared away it was found that just two lone sophs who had been in the game really had a right to play. The game was immediately declared forfeited and the freshmen will play the seniors for the sweaters.
