Columbia university, in an attempt to become of service to the community, has entered upon a new field. Practical lectures in economic agriculture are being given in the heart of New York city. Columbia university does not have an agricultural department, but the series of lectures is being given by experts. The first lecture was given last night.

suits at Urbana. We claim at present to have the best Nebraska spirit we have ever had. I believe it is true. But the best test comes Friday night, when we will find out by the attendance and the general sentiment of the audience whether that is only football spirit or true Nebraska spirit. We hope that it is just as applicable to debates as it is to gridiron battles."

A request has been made by the management that everyone come early, in view of the fact that no one will be seated during the time occupied by the speaker. The band concert at 7:45 is guarantee against any fear of a monotonous wait. Tickets for the debate are on sale at the university Y. M. C. A.

There is a rumor afloat that a rooting section will be reserved for those who are most enthusiastic in their display of real spirit. This report has not as yet materialized, although the manager announced that students were pushing the proposition.

Notice.

The German club meets at the home of Miss Heppner, whose address is 1426 South Tenth street, instead of Tenth and H. Every member is expected to be there at 8. This is important.

of the university are granted one more day of vacation than was accorded the rest of the undergraduate body. The vacation in 1909 ended Tuesday morning, and when the calendars for the college of law were printed the change which was effective this year had not been made. As a result the students in this college had a longer vacation than the rest of the undergraduates.
