DECEMBER 6, 1910

To the Editor of the Daily Nebraskan:

In answer to the editorial in Saturday's issue of the Daily Nebraskan, "Is it Fair?" I should like to say that if the Tegner Society "called off" its meeting every time there was some other university function scheduled for that evening, it would never hold any meetings. Now, on Saturday evening the girls of the Tegner Club d'd attend the Y. W. C. A. membership supper and the club meeting was the negative then permit us to suggest that perhaps you might agree that we are right. We are glad to learn that all the Tegner girls were at the Y. W. C. A. banquet, and as we said, the banquet that night for university women was an excellent plan, but according to your program we notice that not all the gentlemen members of the Tegner society were at the Cornhusker banquet. If that is the case it is time for the girls of that society to tell the men that they had better get a little more real true university spirit into them, and follow the example set by all the girls of the organization.

THE CORNHUSKER BANQUET.

As that great crowd was gathered around the festive board, we found in a few cases men of the former teams, men who had worked hard in their efforts to bring victory and true Nebraska spirit to the hearts of many a student, wipe the tears from their eyes as they viewed the greatest demonstration of real, true, good old Nebraska spirit this year.

Each man a brother, a brother who would fight to the last for the old U. of N. In every word, every song, in fact, every heart beat, there was a unity which could not be broken. That unity was centered around the chancellor, the team, the toastmaster, and not called until 8:30. We often find it necessary to compromise with other meetings in order to have any ourselves.

A TEGNER.

It is very apparent that we have been misunderstood and that conclusions have been drawn which were vastly different than any intended. The Tegner society is one of the best organizations in school and we wish that there were more like it. We do not think that any exceptions should have been taken in this matter at all. If the Tegner society or the English club, or any other organization had to postpone its meetings for all the university hops and university functions similar, there would be no need for an organization like the Tegner society in the university.

Now, if we have offended our unknown correspondent we beg your pardon most sincerely, but if you will permit us we would like to ask a few questions.

Do you think that the Cornhusker banquet and the debate should be classed with university hops?

Do you think that the Tegner society should resent a request of the faculty to postpone their banquet on this one occasion?

Do you think that the Tegner society as a group of individuals is more important to university spirit than the Cornhusker banquet?

Do you honestly and truly think that your love for your university is so small that you would be unwilling to discomode yourself a "wee, tiny, bit" to bring Nebraska spirit to the fore?

If your answer to yourself is in the men who have done things for Nebraska. The aim of these men was but two words—"Greater Nebraska." Their armor was the true-heartedness of manhood and brotherly love, and their battlecry was "The Scarlet and Cream forever." This was the spirit shown at the Cornhusker banquet of 1910. And in conclusion may we offer a toast:

To the Nebraskan, the man, the woman, who has the love of his or her university so deeply planted in the heart, that years may pass, that old age may come, that sorrows, joys and the cares of the world may come and go, but still the seed of love for the U. of N. will live and grow, until it has become as a fire which never goes out and is known as university spirit.

PROF. HECK ON "AFRICA."

To Present First of a Series of Six Lectures on the "Dark Continent."

In connection with the recent organization of the University Y. M. C. A. into colleges for the purpose of concentrating and increasing the progress of the missionary movement at this school, Prof. C. M. Heck of the physics department will give the first lecture of a series of six at the Temple, Wednesday night. This lecture will be under the auspices of the organization formed from a combination of the "lit" and "medic" colleges. It is urged that every Y. M. C. A. member, or other student interested in the work, make an effort to hear this lecture. The theme for discussion will be "Africa."
