ANOTHER TRIANGULAR RACE

DALE BOYLES ENTERS JUNIOR PRESIDENCY RACE.

TO OPPOSE PEARSE AND ROGERS

CLIFFORD F. PHILLIPS THE FIRST SOPHOMORE CANDIDATE.

Sophomore Class Challenged to a Debate by the University of Omaha, But No Action Taken—The Committee Reports.

Dale Boyles has entered the race for the presidency of the junior class. He was yesterday unanimously voted the support of the junior law class, of which he is a member. He was voted as the choice of the laws without a dissenting voice. Boyles is a fraternity man, being a member of Delta Tau Delta. He is said, by one of his friends, to be "a hard worker for the class and for his school, and a member of the junior play committee."

Two Triangular Races.

The entrance of Boyles into the junior squabble gives the University some more excitement in the form of another three-cornered presidential campaign. H. B. Pearse and D. M. Rogers are the other two men who are asking for the office. A most exciting race is expected. None of the candidates are boasting of their chances. It is expected to be a warm scrap from start to finish.

Conditions in the senior camp are unchanged. Hathaway, Anderson and Holland are all campaigning in a lively manner. The most interesting situation to be discovered is found in this three-cornered race. All of the men are considered to be strong candidates and none dare to make forecasts of the outcome. Each man is supported by a strong coterie of friends who are carrying on the usual buttonhole campaign for vote promises.

Phillips is Out.

Clifford F. Phillips, of Beatrice, yesterday announced himself as a candidate for the top office of the sophomore class. He is the first candidate to put in an appearance in the second year class. Phillips has been prominent in class affairs. He served the class as chairman of the sophomore Olympic committee, and is at present the chairman of the committee on arrangements for the freshman-sophomore indoor athletic meet. He is a member of Delta Chi fraternity, and of the Platform club, of which he is the secretary. He was a member of the inter-collegiate debating squad this year.

No other candidates have expressed themselves in the sophomore class. One man who was known to be considering the race yesterday decided not to enter, and no other aspirants have as yet been located. Whether or not there will be other candidates is the question of importance to the sophomores. It was reported last night that another man would announce himself probably today, but the reporter could not discover his name. A few more days may develop an exciting race in the second year class.

A Challenge From Omaha.

At a meeting of the sophomore class, held yesterday in Memorial hall, a challenge for a debate between the team representing the University of

"BASEBALL FIRST COLLEGE SPORT TO GO" SAYS M'CLUNG

"The current is setting in more strongly than ever before against professionalism in any college athletics, and as baseball is more open to criticism on this score than any of the others, it is liable to be the first to go," said Prof. C. E. McClung, director of athletics, today.

Professor McClung expressed his belief that the matter of professionalism in the team could be undertaken better by the student council than by the athletic board for the reason that they had a better chance of finding out whether a candidate for the team had played summer baseball and also because in this way the sentiment of the student body could be brought to bear upon the man who attempted to conceal the fact that he had played professional ball. Professor McClung's idea is that an investigation committee consisting of three or five students should be selected by the student council to inquire into the athletic standing of members of all teams. The athletic board meets with evasions or falsehood when it attempts to do the same thing.

"It's up to the students if they want to keep the game," said Professor McClung. "The conference has shown before that they can act decisively on such matters and the students should look the situation squarely in the face and act at once."—Daily Kansan.

Omaha and the sophomore class team, was read. No action was taken on the challenge. The attendance at the meeting was not large enough to justify either an acceptance of the challenge or any other action. The matter was postponed for a discussion and vote at the next meeting, to be held on the 26th of January.

Chairman Radcliffe, of the inter-class athletic committee, reported that the inter-class athletic board had arranged for the series of basket-ball games to decide class championship, and that these games would be held soon after the opening of the second semester. No man who fails to make twelve hours of college credit during the first semester will be eligible to play in these games. "It behooves all of our basket-ball men to play according to the rules and see that there is no flunking," said Radcliffe.

Freshman-Sophomore Indoor.

The date for the indoor meet between the two lower classes has been decided upon. The meet will be held on Friday, February 10th. The committee has been working hard on the plans for this meet. The charge for admission will be nominal and a dance in Memorial hall will follow the contest. Plans for the sophomore try-outs were announced by Chairman Phillips. The list of events and rules for the meet will be published in the Daily Nebraskan when completed.

SAYS THEY DISAGREED.

Daily Kansan Tells a Tale on Valley Conference.

The following article from the Daily Kansan tells of a disagreement in the Missouri Valley conference as follows:

"The attempts of both the Missouri Valley conference, which is made up of faculty representatives, and the conference of presidents and governing boards of Missouri Valley schools to dispose of questions concerning athletics resulted in some slight friction between the two at the last conference in Des Moines. Before last spring all matters concerning athletics had been settled by the Missouri Valley conference, but last spring the conference of presidents and governing boards took matters into their own hands on several important athletic matters which were at the same time being considered by the conference. The opinion of the Missouri Valley conference is that since they have better opportunities to keep in touch with the athletic situation at the various schools than the regents, who must derive their information from the newspapers, all matters concerning athletics should be turned over to them."

TEACHERS CONVENE.

Association of Superintendents and Principals in Lincoln.

The annual session of the Nebraska Association of Superintendents and Principals is now being held in Lincoln, having headquarters at the University Temple. The session will continue until this evening, completing a program of two days' duration.

The officers of the association are: President, Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools, Norfolk, and formerly a University man; vice president, E. K. Hurst, principal of high schools, Falls City; secretary, W. H. Clemmons, president Fremont College, Fremont, and treasurer, John A. Woodard, superintendent of schools, Havelock. Vernon H. May, principal of Lincoln high school, is acting chairman of the local committee.

The superintendents and principals convention usually marks the return of many old Nebraska men, and the 1911 session is particularly significant in this regard. In addition to Fred Hunter, president of the association, other alumnæ members are: I. Elliot, '06, of Broken Bow; H. O. Peary, '10, of Utica; A. Crago, '05 of Randolph, and I. S. Cutter, '98, a Lincoln physician.

Dean Charles Fordyce of Nebraska University will deliver an address to the association members on "The Part of the College and University in Bringing About Better Sanitary Conditions."

Notice.

All track men winning their letters in 1910 are requested to have their pictures taken in track clothes at St. George's Studio between now and Sunday. These pictures are for the Cornhusker and there will be no charges. W. R. POWER, Athletic Editor.

ALL READY FOR THE PLAY

DRAMATIC CLUB PUTTING ON THE FINISHING TOUCHES.

BEST PLAY OF THE ORGANISATION

TO BE GIVEN SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE TEMPLE.

The Saturday Review Speaks Highly of the Production—A Play of Both Smiles and Tears.

The finishing touches are being put on the Dramatic Club play which is to be given at the Temple Theatre tomorrow night. Miss Howell has been working her caste every night now for several weeks and as a consequence the actors have reached about the highest degree of perfection possible. The caste has made a study of the clever little comedy, "Mice and Men," and it is stated that they have fairly mastered the many difficult passages in the play.

Every indication points to a heavy seat sale. All the club's solicitors report little difficulty in disposing of their tickets, so when the doors open Saturday night a full house is looked for. Seats can be reserved from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. today and tomorrow at the Temple.

The Caste.

As has been announced before, the caste is as follows, most of the names being familiar to University students, and with few exceptions the caste is experienced:

Mark Embury.....Nye Morehouse
Roger Goodlake.....Fred McConnell
Capt. George Lovell.....Yale Holland
Sir Harry Trimblestone.....
.....B. C. Marcellus
Kit Barniger.....M. O. Bates
Peter.....Earl Sage
Joanna Goodlake.....Katherine Yates
Mrs. Deborah.....Florence Hostettler
Peggy.....Julia Nagl
Matron.....Marjorie Kunkel
Beadle.....M. O. Bates
Molly.....Marjorie Kunkel

The play is without doubt the best that the Dramatic Club has ever attempted, and it has been fortunate in securing actors who are peculiarly suited to their parts. The play is one which every one will appreciate and enjoy, the plot being one of absorbing and continued interest. The parts are well played, the scenery and costumes such as the club has never before put on. In a word, the performance will be one of refreshing benefit to all who attend.

Smiles and Tears.

The Saturday Review has this to say of "Mice and Men": "I surrendered wholeheartedly, taking the play for all it was worth, smiling and sighing and brushing away the tears with the best of them. The author has a genuine talent for sentimental comedy. Sense of humor has not been denied her. It prevents her from becoming maudlin. What a relief after the illiterate slush to which we have so long been accustomed to find dialogue that is really like human speech, yet tender and more distinguished than human speech."

Sidney Collins, 1911, has recently returned from a meeting of Y. M. C. A. secretaries, which was held at South Bend, Ind. Mr. Collins attended as a delegate from the Lincoln association.
