

AMES TAKES THE SECOND.

Absence of Hiltner Causes Nebraska's Defeat.

After beating Ames by a score of 41 to 20 Friday night, the Cornhuskers fell victim to the Aggies Saturday night by a score of 32 to 31. The absence of Hiltner from the line-up on account of an injured eye, figured materially in the loss of the game. Late in the game Friday he was accidentally struck and the injury was so painful as to cause his retirement.

The score at the end of the first half stood 21 to 11 in favor of Ames. By whirlwind work Nebraska brought up the score in the second half, but the timekeeper's pistol cut off the winning score which would have come in another minute. The line-up:

Goals—Gibson, 1; Owens, 5; Hutchinson, 3; Frank, 1; Carrier, 3; Mosher, 5; Walker, 1; Te Veltrup, 3; H. Brown, 5; J. Brown, 3.

Fouls—Owens, 2; Frank, 2; Mosher, 2; Te Veltrup, 1; J. Brown, 1.

Referee—Dr. Clapp.

NEBRASKANS AS AUTHORS.

Prof. Bessey and Prof. Chase Aid in Publication of New Text.

Reviews for a new text-book on the "Fundamentals of Agriculture" have been received by members of the faculty. The different chapters of the book have been written by eminent authorities on each subject. Some of the contributors are presidents of agricultural colleges. Two Nebraska men are given on the list. Dr. Ernst A. Bessey, who was graduated from the university in 1898 with the degree of M. A., and who is at the present time connected with the department of botany in the Michigan state agricultural school, has a chapter in the new book entitled "Plant Life," and Prof. L. W. Chase, who was graduated from the university in 1904, and is now head of the department of agricultural engineering at the University of Nebraska, is the author of a chapter entitled "Farm Machinery."
