FEBRUARY 22, 1911.

Either the signs of the times have failed to reveal themselves or else the engineers have forgotten that it has been their custom in the past to give a vaudeville show each year. Do we hear a noise?

Do you see anything about the campus this morning to remind you of the fact that it is Washington's birthday? Look carefully. Scrutinize each building.

Remember that the Kansas basketball team is composed of Jayhawkers. They still have in mind what happened on McCook field on the fifth day of last November. Don't forget—we must beat Kansas again.

The basketball games now being played between the class teams are interesting and exciting and the stu-

Arts building has been completely repaired, and the students have been at their regular work since the first of the week. Several improvements have been made, mainly in the arrangement. The drawing room was formerly near the center of the building and the anatomy department on each side. Now the drawing room is at the east end of the building and the anatomy at the west.

The drawing room has been much improved by the addition of several large sky-lights and Tungsten lights over each desk. Fifty new tables arrived Saturday to replace those destroyed by the fire. They are of the standard make, of the best quality, fitted with Yale locks and were put in at considerable cost.

MANY TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS

Greeks Experience Much Delay in Announcing.

Fraternity rushing this semester was not as strenuous as in former years, judging from the short list of pledges which have been announced. Few of the fraternities last night were willing to make any statements. Several made the excuse that they did not care to announce pledges until the registrar had passed judgment on the list of men submitted for his approval. When a Nebraskan reporter telephoned to one house he was answered with the cool information that it was against their policy to publish a list of pledges in the newspapers.

Only four Greek letter organizations have made public a list of pledges, and the entire list includes only six men. The men who have accepted the pledge pins are as follows: Alpha Theta Chi, Carl Worley of York; Beta Theta Pi, Ralph Kissinger of Fairfield; Kappa Sigma, Clarence Benjamin of Arapahoe; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Carl Meyer of University Place, Glen Mosley of Lincoln and Jack Abbott of Hyannis.

dents should support them. You can help your class to win the championship by getting out and cheering the men who are in the contest.

Experiments demonstrating the practical use of cement to the engineering classes have proved very beneficial to the student. Now out on the westerly side of the campus east of Library hall is a certain tree, and arranged around that tree are certain stone seats, placed there as a gift to the university by the class of 1906. Now this certain tree has grown and increased in diameter with the years, and as a result is pushing its uncomfortable stone corset in every direction, and the time will come to pass when the stone seats are of no use to the campus loungers whatever, for they will have been rent asunder by the irresistible onslaught of the oppressed tree. Some day when these practical demonstrations are going on, what would be the matter of moving the stone so as to give the tree room to grow and cementing the structure together again?
