MANY STUDENTS HERE CONSERVATION SPEECHES

sources and particularly of animal life. The saving of grass trees and birds can be begun in every person's front yard.

Governor Aldrich's address was received very enthusiastically. He said the conservation of the children of our state was our greatest problem. He told of many ways in which this could be improved. In the afternoon the meeting was held in sections, which were largely attended.

Last night a great crowd was out to hear Henry Wallace, president of the national conservation commission, C. J. Blanchard, chief statistician of the United States reclamation service, also spoke.

ACCEPT OMAHA CHALLENGE

MAGIC NAME OF "LIZZIE" WINS SERGEANT-AT-ARMS FOR REIN.

A small per cent of the sophomore class met yesterday in Memorial hall to elect minor officers and transact general business. The challenge from Omaha university, asking for a debate between that university and the team representing the sophomore class, was received and the secretary was instructed to write to the Omaha authorities accepting the challenge. The date and questions will be chosen later, the contest to be held in Omaha.

The officers elected to assist President Phillips in running the affairs of the class during this semester were: Vice-president, Glen Ruby; secretary, Ruth Cull; treasurer, W. L. Randall; sergeant-at-arms, C. L. Rein. The only exciting race was for the office of sergeant-at-arms. Three men were nominated. The first nomination made was that of Carrol Sears, the retiring president. Harry Coffee was then placed on the slate, but he quickly arose and nominated "Lizzie" Rein. The nomination speech, which Coffee delivered, together with the attractive nick-name given the candidate, won the day for "Lizzie." Coffee only received one vote for the office, Sears following him with less than a score.

The committee which is to have charge of the sophomore informal was appointed. Burton S. Hill is to be chairman of the committee and Harold Mulligan master of ceremonies. The members of the committee are C. S. Bachorich, F. C. McConnell, E. P. Snyder, J. H. Quinn, J. F. Keith, G. R. Mann, Helen Sawyer and Ima Huntington.

UPPER CLASS TEAMS VICTORIOUS

Sophomores Lose Heart at End of First Half.

Clearly outclassing their rivals by fast passing and sure goal throwing, both the senior and junior teams won in the second series of interclass basketball games last night. The sophomores began to lose heart in the early part of their game and had become so disgusted at the end of the first half that they forfeited to the seniors. The score then stood 20 to 6. The freshmen being more gritty, fought against certain defeat to the bitter end, finally losing to the juniors 45 to 11.

Both upper class teams are strong and the final contest, which, takes place next week to decide the interclass championship will be exciting. The first and second year men have been vanquished with ease and a comparison of scores and general showing leaves the outcome extremely doubtful.
