

Directory of Advertisers

The following merchants and business men of Lincoln are anxious to serve the University students. By placing their advertisements in the columns of the Daily Nebraskan they show that they want your trade. And you may be sure that the merchant who is willing to make a little effort to get your patronage is the one who is going to treat you honestly and considerately in attempting to keep it. So you—as well as the Nebraskan—will profit by trading with these people:

SPRECKLES RECITES STORY OF WAR AGAINST GRAFT

an urgent plea made for the initiative and referendum and the recall. Mr. Spreckles told of how the signature of four judges had been secured to an order to grant Abe Rueff a rehearing, but when the legislature passed the recall there was a unanimous decision for vacating the order.

In closing he told the story of a young man who he had known well. He was the secretary of a corporation that had been implicated in the bribery cases. He was wealthy and had been given this position with all promises of success. The manager had been a friend of his father, and after congratulating the young man said that he must do what his associates wished. This he did and was a ruined man with nothing left. Mr. Spreckles told the story as the young man related it to him. But there was still enough manliness in this fellow to say that Mr. Spreckles was right and that he sympathized with him in his work.

Principles in Business.

The speaker made a strong appeal for principles in all business, principles that are right. He said that the man to be condemned was the one who in the name of friendship would tell the young people to always obey those who were influential about them. A banker who in speaking to the students of the University of California told them that they must not be "too fussy" out in the business world was arraigned in no gentle manner. These men should be banished from the home, he declared, for the men who live off the corruption of young men are no better than those who live off the shame of woman.

After his address the audience extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Spreckles, who was forced to leave early in order to catch his train.

Bryan Speaks.

Hon. W. J. Bryan was present and was asked to speak. He commended Mr. Spreckles for the stand he had taken, and the great work he was doing for his country. He said that the majority would govern, but in the individual there should be morality. No one should be afraid to stand up for what he thinks is right. He may have some idea that has never been thought of, or if it has, it has never been mentioned. This is the greatest age of opportunity, he declared, the world has ever known. Men who could forget other matters and look to the public welfare, he said, were the men who were needed. Mr. Spreckles was pointed out as a high idea of citizenship. What the country needs is such men who can rise above their environment.

Chancellor Avery presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers of the evening.

RULES FOR OFFICEHOLDERS.

Must Carry Twelve Hours and Not Be Delinquent.

Attention of students is again called to the regulations imposed by the university authorities in regard to qualifications for holding any class office or position on athletic teams, dramatic club, or other university organizations. The following was posted on the bulletin boards and published in the Nebraskan last September:

22. A student who, in any semester, is not satisfactorily carrying at least twelve (12) hours is debarred from representing the university that semester on any athletic or debate team or board, on a glee, mandolin, or dramatic club, on the staff of any college publication or on any other university organization; moreover a student who fails to pass in twelve (12) hours at the end of a semester is debarred from representing the university in any capacity the semester following.

In the past the active enforcement of this ruling has been applied mainly by university athletic and publication boards to those representing the university in athletics and upon its publications.

It seems desirable that no student who is unable, or not sufficiently interested in the academic side of his college life, to carry with a passing grade twelve hours, the minimum required of a regular student, should represent the student body and the university in an official capacity whatever. It is therefore recommended that each student before becoming a candidate for any such position or office secure from the registrar a statement that he has passed in twelve hours last semester in school, and ascertain also that he is not at present delinquent. All class officers, before appointing or announcing committees, athletic or debating teams, should submit the names selected to the university officials for approval.

The university feels that those who can not meet this scholarship requirement should not be given additional responsibilities and that such honors and advantages as come from the fulfillment of various offices should be received by those who are meeting this obligation, and, as a result, are bona fide college students.

INTERFRATERNITY MEET SATURDAY

LARGE NUMBER OF ENTRIES IN ANNUAL GREEK EVENT INCREASING.

The annual interfraternity indoor athletic meet will be held in the armory next Saturday night, March 4. Judging from the present expectations of the committee management, this is to be the largest and most successful event of its type ever held at Nebraska.

Every fraternity in the school will participate in this meet. Each will enter three men in each event, with the exception of the relay and tug-of-war, in which entries of four and six, respectively, will be made. Due to the exceptionally large number of entries already presented to the committee on entries, it may be necessary to hold try-outs preliminary to the big event. It is almost assured that this will be the case in the relay and tug-of-war, although a definite time for the "elimination" has not been set.

The interfraternity meet was installed permanently into the university athletic curriculum four years ago. It was won in 1908 and 1909 by Alpha Theta Chi and in 1910 by Beta Theta Pi. A good many conjectures have been made regarding the probable winner for 1911, but it is generally agreed that most of the Greek clubs will get a share of the bacon ration and that most of the shares will be evenly divided. All entries will be announced in the Daily Nebraskan tomorrow morning.

TO ENTERTAIN LEGISLATURE.

Cadet Band is Preparing for Concert to Be Given March 23.

The University Cadet band will give its final concert of the year at the Oliver theater Thursday, March 23. This is to be the crowning feature of the band's work and all the music is new and the kind that first class bands play. The band contains about seventy members this semester, and under Director Hagenow has made rapid advancement in its playing ability.

Governor Aldrich and the members of the legislature will be specially invited guests at the concert. A general admission will be charged to cover the expenses of the event.
