

BIG PEANUT SALE NOW ON.

Y. W. C. A. Girls Raising Money for Cascade Conference Fund.

Today, as announced some time ago, is the time to buy salted peanuts. They are on sale near the library building by members of the Y. W. C. A. Each year the Y. W. C. A. holds a conference at Cascade, Colo., and it is to help raise money for this fund that the senior girls of the cabinet have decided to keep shop for a day. The peanuts are fresh and those who buy will certainly get their money's worth, as it is stated by the committee that never before have such luscious peanuts been offered to the university public. Besides being for sale on the campus they may be procured at the association rooms in the Temple.

TO INVESTIGATE FINANCES.

Freshman Class to Probe Mysteries of Hop Proceeds.

An investigation of the financial standing and solvency of the freshman hop committee is desired and will be attempted by members of the freshman class. At a meeting held yesterday in the Temple it was decided that a report from this committee would be in order, as it is understood that a cash balance remains on hand from the proceeds of the hop, and what has become of the money is a mystery to the class. President Brannon appointed a committee with Fremont Mitchie as chairman to look into the matter. He also appointed a committee to look after the preparation of a "skit" for Ivy day. Carl Nagl is chairman of this committee.

In order to have a sufficiently large number of men in the mob scene in a play, entitled "The County Chairman," 200 students at Purdue have stopped shaving so as to be fitting participants in the "scrap."
