

RESIGNATION OF PROF. LE ROSSIGNOL IS REGRETTED

COUNTED AMONG FOREMOST EDUCATORS OF DENVER.

Books Have Been Translated Into Other Languages—Has Been Granted Two-Year Absence.

The Clarion, published by the University of Denver, says that great regret is being expressed throughout that university at the result of Dr. Le Rossignol's announcement that he had decided to accept the headship of the department of political economy at the University of Nebraska. At the same time, Professor Le Rossignol is receiving many congratulations on his resignation by a school of Nebraska's size.

Dr. Le Rossignol has, with the exception of a year spent in Nebraska, been teaching at Denver university for sixteen years. During that time he has been counted one of that institution's ablest and most popular professors. He has been granted a two-year leave of absence from Denver, so that in case the climate at Lincoln should prove unsuited to him he can return to Denver.

Professor Le Rossignol has also expressed regret at leaving Denver. However, at Nebraska he will have a larger field and another attractive feature is the increase in salary. There are a number of professors in the department here and Dr. Le Rossignol will have less actual teaching to do.

Concerning some of Professor Le Rossignol's past work the Clarion says:

"Not only has Dr. Le Rossignol rendered loyal, efficient service within the university, but by his ability as a speaker and a writer he has been one of the most active in spreading the name of the school throughout the world. He is the author of a number of books on economic subjects which have attained wide popularity and are used in distant colleges. His 'Orthodox Socialism' has even been translated for use in Japanese universities. He is one of the foremost authorities on that most interesting of countries from the viewpoint of the economist, New Zealand, and his late book 'State Socialism in New Zealand,' has been enthusiastically received in the colony. His success in fiction was no less marked when he published about two years ago his 'Little Stories of Quebec.'"

In 1909 the attendance at the football games on Franklin Field amounted to 101,113, in comparison with 80,096 during the season of 1910 at Pennsylvania.

Freshmen Fail to Support Their Hop Committee.

On Saturday night after the Kansas meet the freshman hop will be held at the Lincoln hotel. It is hoped by the committee that this incident will help in bringing out a good attendance. It is certain that there will not be a large number present as the tickets have been going slowly. Less than forty have been sold thus far and some of the freshmen are laying awake nights thinking of a financial failure. This is the last class informal of the year, but the dancers seem to be tired. One peculiar circumstance is the poor way in which the first year men are supporting this function which is given by the class.
