ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY.

When the referee of today's game sounds his whistle for the first kick-off, the Cornhusker football team will begin another season. Behind it lie glorious records of

HANSEN FOR PRESIDENT.

Another candidate for Freshman president has appeared in the person of Elmer Hansen of Lincoln. He is registered in the Pharmacy College, and is pledged to the Phi Gamma Deltas.

It now appears that Finley and Hansen are to be the only candidates for the position. Finley, who announced his candidacy yesterday, has already started his campaign, and will work mainly for the "barb" vote. It is understood that he will have the solid backing of the Omaha men, while Hansen will be pushed by the Lincolnites.

NO SICKNESS AT NEBRASKA.

Sickness among the students is unusually scarce this year according to Chancellor Avery. No cases of serious nature have been reported since the beginning of the school year, except that of David Meeker. Although the city of Lincoln has been having an epidemic of typhoid fever, nothing has been heard of as to any of the former years; weeks and months of hard conscientious training and a few days of actual practice.

Before it lies the hardest schedule of Nebraska's career, and consequently, an opportunity to place the name of Nebraska on such a pinnacle as has never heretofore been attained.

In the game today, therefore, more players will participate than appear on the field. Upon the struggle are fixed the eyes of thousands.

From the camps of our opponents will come visitors to watch the debut of a respected, possibly feared, rival.

In every city, town and village called "home" by any Cornhusker alumnus, eyes and hearts are fixed on the showing made in this opening game.

On the stands other hundreds will watch with eagle eyes, every play and misplay, hoping and dreaming of the games to come.

A splendid coach and a team with splendid possibilities are entering upon a splendid schedule.

May the result be as glorious as the prospects, but whatever the outcome of game or season, may every Cornhusker football player realize that he carries with him always, the hope, the faith and the charity of every Cornhusker rooster.

This is credited to the care taken in warning all the attendants at the University of the danger in drinking water of doubtful origin.
