

HOUSEHOLD ARTS CLUB ELECTS

MILDRED BEVINS CHOSEN TO HEAD POPULAR GIRLS' ORGANIZATION.

Mildred Bevins, '12, is to be the head of the Household Arts club for the year. She was elected president of the club at the organization meeting, when the following other officers were chosen to serve with her:

Vice-president, Jessie Pope; secretary, Sarah Bailey; corresponding secretary, Edith Ohlsen; treasurer, Louise Guthrie.

Miss Bevins, whose home is in Omaha, has attained a high degree of skill in her chosen line of work, and her election to the important position is gratifying to her many friends.

New Building Helps.

Incidental to the meeting of the club, the fact is noted that the registration in the department of home economics in the college of agriculture has increased thirty per cent this year. With this increase, and the advantages of a fine building for its home and a group of competent college graduates for its teaching staff, the course is rapidly taking its place with the other important branches of education at the University.

Has Grown Rapidly.

When the subject was first taught at Nebraska, it was regarded chiefly as an easy way to secure a few hours' credit. Now, however, the course ranks high in comparison with that of other universities, and students in that department vouch for the fact that it is no graft.

The purpose of the Household Arts club is to promote the work of the department and of the home economics associations of the country in spreading knowledge of the sciences of the home among the nation's future home makers.

JUNIORS ELECT TODAY

RADCLIFFE OPPOSES POTTER FOR THIRD YEAR HONOR.

The Junior class will meet at 11.30 this morning in Memorial hall for the purpose of electing a president. No other offices are to be filled at this meeting. Glen Ruby will preside, due to the absence from school of Clifford Phillip, who has entered the University of Michigan Law School.

Clayton Radcliffe of Sidney, and Herbert Potter of Omaha, are the only announced candidates for the position as yet, but it is rumored that a dark horse may enter the race at the eleventh hour. Both men are fraternity men, Radcliffe being a member of Delta Upsilon, while Potter is a Sigma Chi.

is unusual for a practice game, to say the least. All the seats will be reserved, that the sale of tickets insure."

The University band expressed its appreciation of the squad by marching around the field to the reserve and playing before them; then saluting and cheering for "the girls."

STUDY SOCIAL CONDITIONS.

The University of Washington has begun offering a course in social betterment work, along settlement lines. The class will use the water front districts of Seattle as a laboratory, and will probably establish a settlement there.

DEBATE SQUAD IS PICKED

FOURTEEN MEN CHOSEN SATURDAY TO MAKE UP DEBATE SEMINAR.

The following men were chosen for the debating squad officially known as Rhetoric 22, at the tryout held in Memorial hall Saturday morning:

C. L. Clark '12, Z. C. Dickinson '14, J. R. Forbes '13, Joseph Goldstein, Law '13, R. L. Halldorson '12, Benj. Hargison, Law '13, R. W. Garrett '12, L. J. Hargrave '12, H. A. Prince '13, C. L. Radcliffe '13, A. R. Raymond, '11, Law '13, J. L. Swan '13, W. F. Wasson '08, Law '13, L. A. Welch '12.

There were twenty-one contestants, which shows much better interest in debate at Nebraska than at Illinois, one of the other members of the Intercollegiate Conference, where only six men reported. The organization of the squad was effected at a meeting held Saturday evening.

WHOLE TEAM STARS IN OPENING EXHIBITION

The line was shifted almost as much as the backfield, and each combination worked with unqualified success. Captain Sylvester Shonka was in fine form and his moose-like rushes netted many a yard, though he was permitted to make but one touchdown, while Harmon at left tackle scored 10 points for his share.

Chauner at left end, played an All-Missouri Valley game, but was handed a bad blow on the head and taken out for rest part of one quarter. Lofgren handled a number of forward passes, twice getting into a clear field. Gus was a trifle handicapped in speed by an injury received a few days ago.

Stiehm Pleased.

"The most remarkable thing about the game was the way the men fought all the time, and the excellent interference they formed," said Coach Stiehm yesterday. The game was also remarkable in that time was taken out but twice for injuries of any kind. Once when Westover hurt his leg slightly, and once when a Kearney man lost his wind.

No Cornhusker rooter could feel the slightest disappointment in the showing, however sanguine he may be and the general impression seems to be going over the school that "We Must Beat Minnesota."
