KANSAS AGGIES COMING TO TACKLE CORNHUSKERS

SQUAD FROM MANHATTAN MEETS NEBRASKA TOMORROW.

STRONG LINEUP THIS YEAR

Eleven from Sunflower State Comes With Well Drilled and Husky Men.

When the whistle calls for the starting of the Cornhusker-Kansas Aggie game tomorrow, it will be no easy contest, as the supporters of Nebraska may have been thinking, but a hard struggle to capture any touchdowns from the Manhattan warriors.

Kansas a Strong Team.

Kansas Agricultural had a splendid team last year and was the least bit disheartened this season when the coach found he would have to almost entirely rebuild his team. But they are coming to Lincoln with every bit as strong a lineup as the one of last year, and that team walloped the Creighton University's fast 1910 eleven by a big score.

The Kansas Aggies, who expect to wallop Kansas Uni this year, have been preparing to send a big delegation to root for the Aggies to the football field when they meet the Jayhawkers.

Cornhuskers Little Weak.

Coach Stiehm's Cornhuskers are in not any too good early season shape—not as good as the big mentor would like to see them. One big man in the backfield, a heavy experienced man to put in the fullback's position so that Purdy could be played on the half, would make the team look much

VAN DUSEN AT WORK

WILL BEGIN ORGANIZATION OF 1912 CORNHUSKER STAFF SATURDAY.

Dana B. Van Dusen, editor-in-chief of the 1912 "Cornhusker" has perfected his plans for the coming book and has begun to gather his staff about him. Van Dusen has been paying particular attention to the development of responsibility on the part of the various sub-editors, and has so arranged the work that the men who have charge of the various lines to be contained in the book will have to stand or fall on the work they do.

Staff to be Small.

Accordingly the staff will be very small as compared to former years and Van Dusen is authority for the statement that only those who have plenty of time and energy to give, need apply for positions.

Applications will be received Saturday morning next at the Cornhusker office in the basement of the Ad building. Freshmen and sophomores with magazine or newspaper experience will be given encouragement.

WILL REMAIN AS COLONEL

A. L. SMITH TO KEEP POSITION AT HEAD OF REGIMENT—WILL BE BACK.

Colonel A. L. Smith has decided to return to Lincoln next semester to pursue studies in the medical college in place of doing his work at the Omaha. He will remain as executive head of the cadet regiment. At least that is the report that has unofficially cropped out at military headquarters.

Smith is taking work at the Omaha medical department this semester, and it was thought that a new colonel might be chosen. Cadet officers seem pleased at the prospect of his return.

CUTRIGHT HEADS SOPHS

IS ELECTED OVER KRUSE AFTER EXCITING CAMPAIGN.

John L. Cutright defeated Frank Kruse for president of the sophomore class yesterday after a hot fight by a vote of 140-106. The sophomores held their election in Memorial hall immediately after convocation. About 250 of the class were present and the meeting was a live one. Kruse and Cutright are both well known and popular and the fight was interesting from the first. The election yesterday was the climax, and was characterized throughout by an intensity of excitement which has been absent from the meetings of the upperclassmen.

Brannon Presides.

Brannon, the retiring president, presided over the meeting.

Richard Stout, a freshman law, nominated Cutright in an eloquent speech. He dwelt upon the qualifications necessary in a president and declared these to be admirably combined in his candidate. Cutright's nomination was received with vigorous applause.

Clark Dickinson made a strong appeal upon the fairness and capability of his candidate, and nominated Frank Kruse. Again the room rang with applause. Both candidates were brought up on the platform. Cutright made a clever speech upon his intentions. He declared his willingness to fall back into the rank and file should the class so desire, and fight for the best interests of the class.

Kruse Talks.

Kruse also made a good talk. He emphasized his independence of any organization or support. He mentioned the Olympics, and declared his earnestness in preparing for them. He

OLYMPICS TO BE HELD IN THE NEAR FUTURE

FRESHMEN IN BATTLE ARRAY AGAINST SOPHOMORES.

FREE FOR ALL TO BE A BIG EVENT

Two Classes to Have Annual Rough House on Nebraska Field, October 28.

Olympics Day, when the Sophomores and the Freshmen meet in more than mortal combat to prove the superiority of one class over the other, has been set for October 28, at Nebraska Field. The Olympics will be held in the morning as the Nebraska-Missouri football game is scheduled for that afternoon.

Five events will make up the program this year, the big scrap coming in the "Free for All," a scrap in which only brickbats and scimitars are barred as weapons. Three boxing events, light, middle, and heavyweight and three wrestling events in similar classes, a tug of war, and the cross-country runs will make up the remainder of the program.

Classes to Organize.

The two classes will organize as soon as possible, fighting captains being chosen by each side. Last year the Freshman class was so well organized that they trimmed the sophomores, but this year the present Freshman class is large in numbers and with good organization should make the fight a good one.

Detail plans for the big free-for-all have not been concluded, but it is suggested that the two forces be lined up on opposite sides of Nebraska Field, and the side that has the greater number of men still inside of the given space after time is called wins. Two out of three fights won will count.

Stiehm May Referee.

A referee will be elected this week for the entire day's events and sub-officers will see that all goes well in the fight. Coach E. O. Stiehm has been suggested for the chief referee and will probably be elected.

Dr. G. E. Condra, the man who originated the idea of the Nebraska Olympics, will not officiate this year as usual, but wild horses won't pull him away from that field to see the fun. Rumor has it that the Doctor is pulling for the Sophomores in spirit, but he's as much in favor of the Freshman mauling the Sophs as otherwise.

Sophs at Work.

The Sophs will have a few days' start on their underclassmen as they have held their election and started their organization. But the Freshies can console themselves that they will outnumber their elders.

The hog tying number of the program, which was one of the events of last year, will not be included this time.

Union Lits Meet.

The Union Literary society will meet tonight for the regular program and social hour. Try to be there.
