MINNESOTA MAKING READY

GOPHER ORGANIZATION STRIVING TO BE IN SHAPE TO MEET NEBRASKA.

Minnesota is making as big preparations for the Nebraska game as are being made at the Cornhusker camp, according to reports from Minneapolis as to the activities at Northrup Field. The Gophers realize that the Nebraska game is going to be one of the hardest contests of the season for them, and they are putting in long hours of work developing team work and plays to meet the skill and speed of the Nebraska eleven.

Dr. Williams has been working out players all this week, and the Cornhuskers will have to play a careful defensive game to prevent one of the speedy Gopher backs from getting away for a much desired touchdown. Johnny McGovern, the man of Minnesota, who was once all-American quarterback, was at Nebraska Field last Saturday, it is understood, and watched the Cornhusker eleven wallop the Kansas Aggies. Coach Stiehm was using simple formations, however, so McGovern's information was only of a general nature.

Minnesota's team is largely of new men and they are to meet a team composed of many old players. Pickering, captain of the Gophers, is not in his regular end position, but at fullback, and there are two green men matched to tackle the speedy ends of Nebraska.

SHINGUARDS

Will We Beat Minnesota? Heavens! Yes!!

We didn't miss you at the rally nor in the parade. There were plenty of loyal Nebraskans there.

Clipped from the Minnesota Daily: "With Nebraska looming up more dangerous each day, every minute is needed." The Gophers are preparing also. Wallop them, Cornhuskers.

That was some send-off. Now to get the game tomorrow.

We want to thank the girls for their share in the send-off. Now who can say the whole school doesn't take part in football?

The team's in Minneapolis, now. Will they win? They sure will.

Roller to Meet Grimm.

Dr. Roller, one time athletic coach of the University of Washington, and one of the best professional wrestlers of today, will open the season at Washington by staging a match with the famous Polly Grimm, captain of last year's football team there, and holder of the amateur mat title for heavyweights on the coast. This is the first event of their great semi-centennial celebration.

NEW LIBRARY SYSTEM.

A saving of hundreds of dollars a year is expected to result from the adoption of the new system of issuing books at the University library. Formerly many books have been permanently retained by persons who took them out. Now this loss by thievery is prevented by a corps of library attendants, who require on all books the signature of the student to whom they are issued. The borrower is held responsible by the University authorities for the return of books he takes out. Except for a shortage of attendants, not a single difficulty has been experienced during the two weeks the new system has been in use.
