

JUNIOR WEEK PLANS

RADCLIFFE APPOINTS COMMITTEES TO HANDLE SPRING FESTIVITIES.

President Clayton S. Radcliffe of the junior class, has announced the appointments of committees for the big events of Junior Week, which it is believed will be held this year in February. Junior Week is a regular institution at several of the large colleges of the country, but was introduced here but a few years ago. President Radcliffe says, however, that the week this year will be the best that lots of work can make it. The appointments are as follows:

Junior Prom—Arthur May, chairman; Harry Cotton, master of ceremonies; committee—Earl Cline, Ralph Wilson, Harry Coffee, Ruth Lindley, Lucile Bell, Helen Sawyer.

Junior Play—Fred McConnell, chairman; committee—Leonard Tewel, Katherine Yates, Florence Farnam.

Junior Convocation—Jerome R. Forbes, chairman; Burton Hill, Dean McBrien, Hazel Perrin, Florence Hostettler.

George Bros., Dance Programs, Monogram Stationery, Motto Cards.

Sophomore Hop Postponed.

On account of other conflicting dates, the sophomore hop has been postponed from the 4th of November to the 11th.

season. After her early success abroad in serious opera, Nielsen advanced with amazing rapidity to a position of eminence, and in her appearance with such distinguished artists as Caruso, Riccardo Martin, Destinn and Melba her abilities impressed public and critics equally. In undertaking her first extensive concert tour of the United States and Canada, Nielsen is declared by authorities to measure to the standard demanded by ex-

ALICE NIELSEN CONCERT AROUSING INTENSE INTEREST

Alice Nielsen, the American prima donna soprano, who has made such remarkable strides in her grand opera career during the past five years, is to sing at the Oliver theater on the 26th of October and will be assisted by four members of the Boston Opera company. Interest in the approaching concert is becoming keen and there is every indication that it is to be one of the important musical affairs of the
