NEW BUILDING FOR COLLEGE OF LAW

TENTATIVE PLANS NOW BEING DRAWN BY ARCHITECTS.

COST EIGHTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS

Much Needed Addition to Campus in Process of Realization Assured.

Tentative plans for a new building for the college of law of the University, are now being drawn by Berlinghof and Davis, the state architects. President C. S. Allen of the Board of Regents and Chancellor Samuel Avery of the University, have authorized the work on the plans, which will possibly be considered by the regents at a special meeting to be held November 25, or else at the regular meeting scheduled for December 12. The proposed new building will probably be decided upon then and preparations for its erection may begin immediately thereafter.

To Cost $85,000.

As now planned, it will be three stories in height and will cost $85,000, the amount appropriated by the last legislature. Its location has not yet been decided upon.

The top floor will be given over to the law library, while the second and main floors will consist of lecture and class rooms, with an auditorium large enough for law college assemblies.

STUDENTS CHEER AT RALLY

CHANCELLOR AVERY AND FORMER TEAM STARS MAKE STIRRING ADDRESSES.

Preparations to show the Show Me crowd from Columbia, Mo., were begun yesterday morning when two thousand students attended a football rally in Memorial hall. The meeting was addressed by Chancellor Samuel Avery, who complimented the spirit shown by the team after the defeat at Minnesota, but urged them to win an actual as well as a moral victory

TIGERS ARRIVE TODAY READY FOR HOT FRAY

MISSOURIANS DECIDED TO GO IN FOR VICTORY.

WILL BE A FIGHT FOR FAIR

Coach Brewer Looks For a Tie Score at Least—Many Seats Sold for Saturday.

Missouri's band of striped Tigers arrives in Lincoln today ready for the fray with the Cornhuskers of Nebraska. Missouri is coming up to win, the dope from the Tiger camp for the past week indicating that their team is more than just good, but Coach Stiehm's eleven feels fully prepared for the man-eaters from the south.

Missouri Confident.

Coach Brewer is confident that his team can at least tie the Cornhuskers and the student body at Columbia is just as sure that their Tigers will trim Nebraska, 6 or 12 points. Strange, but Nebraska doesn't coincide with either of these opinions.

At practice each day Mentor Stiehm has gone after his men steadily and remorselessly, bracing up their line, showing them new plays and generally keeping vigilant watch on the progress made. Finding faults is easy but the big coach is really pleased at

SOPHOMORE BANNER PLANTED ON SPIRE OF UNIVERSITY HALL

The scarlet and gray wave on high. During the wee still hours of the night some stealthy sophs stole into University hall and by a series of dodgings and ascents found themselves out in the open on top of the old building.

No one knows just who did it or how they got there, but in some mysterious manner the colors of the sophomore class this morning float from the tower of old University hall. It was a daring stunt. Someone might have been hurt, but so far no remains of the noble sophs have been found.

The colors were sighted early today by a squad of Freshmen, but at the time the Daily Nebraskan goes to press no trouble has occurred. Some freshmen thought that a squad should attack the streamers and take them down, but the older and wiser ones counselled that possibly it would be more manly to just laugh at the sophs.

Olympics enthusiasm is at fever heat and it is generally thought that Saturday will see a big class scrap, possibly much more strenuous than in years past.
