

CO-EDS TO DECORATE

UNIVERSITY WOMEN MEET THIS MORNING TO DECORATE THEIR SECTION.

Black Masque has issued a call for help in making pennants for the Missouri and Michigan games. At ten o'clock every loyal Nebraskan maiden is urged to present herself at the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Large scarlet and cream pennants will be made, which will decorate the girls' section.

Promptly at nine o'clock the great freshman-sophomore battle begins. In former years the girls have always been enthusiastic onlookers at the Olympics, and it is expected that they will be this year. The girls' section will be reserved as usual, and many co-eds, especially from the two under classes will fill it.

Lunch at Twelve.

At twelve o'clock the big feed of the Girls' club will commence. Over three hundred tickets have been sold for this. Miss Folger, of the Home Economics department, has charge of the menu and promises to serve a good one. Three courses will be served by the girls who are taking the cooking course at the State Farm.

After luncheon, speeches will be given by the officers and members of the club. Miss Ensign and other faculty women will also speak.

May See Bonfire.

The Nebraska co-eds will then go in a body to the Missouri game, where they will sit in their special section. Then that Show Me tribe, as well as

The "hang" means as much as the fit in clothes.

There is art in draping garments--particularly in overcoats.

To see ours is to be convinced of it.

Long, graceful coats with convertible collars for stormy weather, for motoring, or for dress wear.

Lighter weight coats too--silk lined in Oxfords, blacks, grays and handsome mixtures.

$20 to $40.
