

GLEE CLUB REVIVED

LAST YEAR'S NUCLEUS ORGANIZE FOR THE YEAR—NEW MANAGEMENT.

A University Glee Club, supported by the University, was assured at a meeting of twelve of last year's men Friday. The club this year will be under the direct charge of the University and will also receive financial backing from them, according to a statement made by Chancellor Avery. There will be no connection with the School of Music. It will be managed on a business basis, and any money accruing will be kept as a fund for the use of the club next year.

Try-outs This Week.

Three judges will be chosen who are entirely uninterested and try-outs will be held this week. No one may become a member who is not carrying at least twelve hours of work in the University. Every effort is being put forth to make the qualification one of merit only.

The club will probably consist of twenty-four men. They will give a home concert at the Oliver theater before they start out on their tour over the state. The lateness of their organization will inconvenience them this year, but the fact that they are directly under the University means much for the future of the club.

Glees to Come West.

The Harvard glee, mandolin and banjo clubs, with fifty-two members, will visit this part of the country during the Christmas holidays, presenting a program at Omaha on the evening of December 30, the Saturday before classes will be resumed at the University.

BLACK MASQUE CANDY PARTY

HOLD TAFFY PULL AT PI PHI HOUSE INSTEAD OF PICNIC.

The Black Masque have decided November weather wasn't meant for picnics. The picnic planned for several weeks has been given up and they will hold a taffy-pull at the Pi Phi house Thursday evening.

The members are making big plans for the girls' section at the Michigan game. It isn't too late to get that season ticket yet.
