

MISS JOHNSON RECOVERED

VICTIM OF THURSDAY'S AUTO ACCIDENT IS ABLE TO ATTEND CLASSES.

Miss Ruby Johnson, who was struck by an automobile Thursday evening while crossing the corner of Twelfth and R streets, was able to attend her classes yesterday. Miss Johnson is registered in the Conservatory of Music.

She was hurrying across the car tracks to avoid the "Cannonball" and did not notice the auto which was coming down North Twelfth street at the rate of about 20 miles an hour. She was painfully bruised about the head and arms.

Some students passing by rushed to pick her up and carried her to her rooms at 1220 R. Miss Johnson had a very narrow escape from serious injury.

The number of the automobile was secured by the students who assisted her.

CHORUS SINGS "THE PILGRIMS"

BEGINS WORK ON CHADWICK'S FAMOUS WORK.

The University chorus has started work on "The Pilgrims," a beautiful production by Chadwick. It will be given the last convocation before the Thanksgiving holidays.

Since giving the "Creation" in public, and having benefited by the practice, the chorus is attacking this new work with increased enthusiasm, which bids fair to make it an even greater success than the "Creation."

Here and There.

Miss Margaret Hannah, of the Botany department, was called home by the unexpected death of her father. Other assistants are looking after her work.

A customer hates to be "roped in."

But he'll offer little resistance in buying if shown clothes that stand for a standard.

Our Kensington clothes stand for a standard.

Their standard is perfection in ready-for-service clothes.

If you want a suit that conforms to such a standard, one that fits—you want a Kensington.
