NEBRASKA AND MICHIGAN PRIMED FOR BIG GAME

BOTH TEAM IN FINE CONDITION TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY.

PONTIUS, WELLS, THOMPSON HERE

The Wolverines Bring Full Lineup to Grapple With Nebraska—Coach
Stiehm Preparing.

The last and biggest game of the year for Nebraska faces the Cornhuskers, Saturday, and tonight the team will go through its last practice before stepping upon the field to meet the football machine developed by Coach Fielding Yost.

Full Team Comes.

Primes for the big game, the Michigan team arrived in Lincoln this morning. Thomson, Wells and Pontius were all along with the team and in all probability all three of the men whose playing has been doubtful will be in the lineup against the Cornhuskers. Wells is practically the only man of the great eleven who is not in the finest of shape, and on this account he will play but part of the game.

Michigan Fearful.

Michigan is going into the game with its eyes open, for the Wolverines fear the strength of the Nebraska eleven. One critic, from Michigan, who has seen the Nebraska eleven in action, declares that it is a better team than Pennsylvania's and that Nebraska will be the foe to be most dreaded during the year.

Hard Workout Thursday.

Nebraska's supporters, and Coach Stiehm and the team, realize that this is their biggest game and the big mentor steadily led his men faster and faster in preparing for the big contest in the Thursday practice. The freshmen team and the scrubs were utilized to represent Michigan and a long part of the practice was spent in developing the Nebraska defense. Coach Stiehm realizes that Michigan will attempt to rush the game in the first half, and he has trained his men to be prepared for this.

Governor Opens Game.

Governor Aldrich will open the game by kicking the ball at 2:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. The gates of the grounds will be opened at 12:30 o'clock.

The officials have not been assigned their duties as yet, but Ver Wiebe of Harvard, Hickey of Yale, and Walter Eckersall of Chicago will act as the three head officials.

MONSTER CORNHUSKER RALLY

Game Enthusiasm Stimulator Held in Memorial Hall Today

All eleven o'clock classes will be excused this morning in favor of a giant mass meeting which will be held at that hour. Coach Yost and his Wolverines arrived this morning at 7:05 via the Burlington; they will be on hand for the joint mass meeting.

The rival teams will be present; the famous Cornhusker band will play as it never played before; several new yells will be introduced, and oratory will lend its force to enthusiasm. The rival coaches, "Jumbo" Stiehm and "Hurry Up" Yost will account for the undoubted superiority of their respective teams; Dr. Condra instill into the most diffident the true Nebraska spirit, and, to this oratory, Dr. Edwin Maxey will add his remarks—those remarks which always shake the roof by the enthusiasm which they bring forth.

The co-eds have expressed their intention of attending the mass meeting in force in order to prove to the student body their loyalty, and firm intervention of attending the Cornhusker Banquet.

At this hour many alumni will have arrived and every effort will be made to have the present at this meeting. Those present will have an opportunity of seeing that Nebraska spirit has in no way waned since their departure, and that "Jumbo" Stiehm has as wonderful an organization as existed in the days of "Bummy" Booth.

Cheer Leader Hawley urges all leather-lunged rooters to attend, for definite arrangements will be made as to the organized rooting for tomorrow, and a couple of novel yells will be perfected.

According to a certain Minneapolis paper, the Nebraska rooters at the Minnesota game did some of the most spirited rooting ever heard on Northrop Field. Are the Wolverines going to take home a similar report?

If those who attend this joint mass meeting are determined to show the Michiganders that we can root, they will go the Minneapolis paper one better.

COSGRAVE ENTHUSIASTIC

MICHIGAN ALUMNUS BOOSTS BIG FEED IN HONOR OF TEAM.

Announcement that the Cornhusker banquet would be open to co-eds has caused a sensation among the male undergraduates, who were considerably astonished when confronted with the statement of the banquet committee that the doors were to be opened to girls for the first time in the history of the traditional celebration of the football season. The action was made necessary by the combination of the Cornhusker dinner with the proposed Michigan alumni reunion. The Michigan men had invited ladies to their banquet and the consolidation was arranged so as to cause no conflict with these plans.

"The Michigan alumni had made elaborate preparations for their banquet," said P. James Cosgrave, who was selected for toastmaster of the Michigan affair. "Michigan men are coming to Lincoln from Oklahoma, Iowa, Kansas and Colorado. We had invited these alumni to bring their wives with them and our plans included the entertainment of ladies at the banquet. Tickets had been disposed of with this understanding and of course we could not abrogate it, even in order to unite with the Cornhuskers. When the matter was explained to them, those who are in charge of the Cornhusker banquet at once decided to throw open their affair to ladies. Many of the Michigan men from outside the city will attend the banquet, with the ladies whom they bring to the game."

RECEPTION FOR COBURNS

DRAMATIC CLUB ENTERTAINS
FAMOUS ACTORS SATUR-DAY MORNING.

The Dramatic Club is going to give a reception Saturday morning in honor of the Coburn Players. About seventy-five invitations have been sent out to members of the faculty and student body who are interested in meeting these famous folk.

The reception will be held in the Dramatic Club room in the Temple, where Miss Howell, who is president of the club, other officers, and members of the club will act as hosts to their guests and friends.

ROOTERS TO HAVE SEATS

Nebraska's rooting band will have seats on the west end of the south stand for the Michigan game. There will be 200 seats for the rooting band—first come first served.

Students holding student season athletic tickets will have the section of seats on the east end of the north stand, extending up to the thirty-yard line of the field. The same rule of first come first served will be observed in seating the men in this section.

The Girls' Rooting Club will have their usual section, and all girls with season tickets will be admitted there. This section will be reserved for them.

Anyone wishing to usher for the game may report at 12:15 at the gate to Earl O. Eager, and will receive free admission for work in seating the crowd.

FOOTBALL ANNUAL OUT

The annual Thanksgiving football number of the Daily Nebraskan will be issued tomorrow instead of the regular issue of the Daily Nebraskan.

The issue this year will be the biggest football issue ever put out at Nebraska, containing pictures of the team, the coaches, and all the information of Nebraska football in the season to be concluded tomorrow.

The Daily Nebraskan is putting out this issue in honor of Nebraska's Michigan game, and for that reason it will be issued tomorrow at the Daily Nebraskan office to all subscribers. Those who receive their mail at the postoffice boxes will have them delivered to them in the usual way, but if your name is merely on the list at Station A, do not call at the station, but at our office.

Extra copies must be ordered today at the Rag office. They will cost ten cents per copy. Today is the day to order them.
