STUDENT DIRECTORY OUT

ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF GENERAL INFORMATION ON SALE TODAY.

The Student Directory is on sale today in the Library, the City Y. M. C. A., the two University associations, and, if weather permits, in front of the Armory.

The price will be but ten cents, and considering the information to be found in the volume, this is just like giving away a grandstand ticket. In cover it will be like last year's directory. The names of all faculty, their degrees, residence, and telephone num-

DOUD RESIGNS.

Ralph S. Doud, formerly city editor of the Daily Nebraskan, has handed in his resignation. The press of school work and outside affairs made it impossible for Mr. Doud to give us his services any longer, but we hope that at some future time he will again be able to accept a position on the staff.

THOSE GIRLS.

Did you hear the girls' squad root! Maybe you were helping make the big noise yourself and couldn't hear them, but they did! They just forgot themselves and yielded to primitive instincts. They didn't stop to worry about their voices sounding squeaky. The girl in front didn't turn around and look at you as if you were a wild and woolly Apache. As one girl they all opened their mouths and helped urge the team on to victory.

Sometimes their hats were on crooked. Sometimes tears were in their eyes. Sometimes they wondered why someone didn't kill the umpire. Sometimes they hugged each other and danced around on people's feet.

But they were bursting with pride for the Nebraska warriors, for the noble playing, for the strong manhood of the coach—and they KNOW NOW they have "college spirit."

The girls' squad has come to stay. They are a "tradition." And next year they will play no mean part in that glorious football career everyone says Nebraska is going to get away with.

About the Directory.

The Y. M. C. A. regrets that a few of the copies of the student directory are not correctly paged. Students who discover any imperfections are requested to bring the books to the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Temple and exchange them for good ones.

ber will be given. Concerning each student, will appear his full name, the course registered for, street number, telephone number properly corrected, the organizations of which he is a member, and the home address.

In the front will appear a complete list of all fraternities and sororities, with the telephone numbers and location of each. All University organizations will appear and a list of the officers will be given. Perhaps one of the most useful of the many new features will be the complete and correct list of all campus telephones. In all the book will comprise eighty-eight pages, appropriately bound. Remember, only ten cents, and it is to be on sale today.
