SECOND MILITARY BALL.

SOLDIERS DANCE IN BLAZE OF GLORY

White Gloves to Be Worn—But Cabs
Are Out of Date—Programless
Band Informal First.

In a blaze of splendor the gay soldier lads will lead their lassies next Friday evening. The Military Ball is going to be the most elaborate dance ever given at the University. The committee have been planning lavish decorations and every day some new feature is being added.

At a meeting of the committee, held a day ago, the decoration committee was instructed to leave nothing undone and the committee appropriated the money to decorate in every detail as the sub-committee had requested.

More Big Stunts.

Some new features are to be introduced into the grand march. The officers are planning to spring a number of stunts during the evening. Master of ceremonies D. B. Van Dusen promises that the committee this year do not intend to let Old Glory get sidetracked, as she did last year.

A series of fancy drills and marches may be a part of the officers' program. No "comish," however, will divulge the secret and none know just exactly what is liable to be sprung.

White Gloves Necessary.

The new uniforms, which have arrived, will make it possible for the band to appear in full uniform, white gloves and all. About twenty of the officers will also wear brand new regalia. It promises to be a grand occasion. It will be formal as announced, but even "formals" at Nebraska are far from stiff affairs.

Cabs have been formally abolished at the University and are never necessary, except when the elements get on a rampage and make navigation next to impossible. The fact that the girls are not expecting to have their escorts call in cabs (a public nuisance necessarily, but only temporarily revived last Saturday night) relieves the mind of many a soldier who would to the dance.

To Begin Early.

The cadet band will give a concert of dance music beginning at 7:30

BUSINESS MEN HONOR CHAMPION CORNHUSKERS

Tender Regal Spread to Football Men in Token of City's Appreciation --Captain Elected Today.

In a manner that leaves no room for doubts as to the future policy of Lincoln business men with regard to support for Cornhusker athletics, the Missouri Valley football champions of the past two years were entertained at a royal banquet at the Lincoln Hotel last night by a coterie of the leading business men of the city.

At 6:45 the first squad of the Cornhuskers, together with their hosts and a trio of scribes, were ushered into the ordinary, and from then until a late hour it was a continual round of enthusiasm, reminiscence and planning for the future.

Songs and cheers interspersed the short, pithy talks of the business men, each of whom told in a different manner his idea of what Lincoln owed to the University and the football team, and what in turn the University owed to Lincoln. There was no toast list, but man after man was called upon by toastmaster Louis Wettling until there had been a general expression of the intense enthusiasm for the school and team that has been aroused by the performances of the past eleven years on the gridiron, culminating in the Michigan game.

Big Game Here.

Coach E. O. Stiehm told of his visit to the Big Eight Conference meeting in Chicago, and assured the hosts that Lincoln would witness a game between Nebraska and either Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin or Chicago next fall.

Captain Shonka and Manager E. O. Eager responded on behalf of the team, and dwelt upon the records past and hopes for records to come.

Professor John Ledwith of the law school, C. C. Quiggle, Joe Burnham, W. W. Hackney, Jr., Ike Raymond, W. S. Whitten, Mr. Frank Gillen, Ole W. Palm and others made short, spicy talks, and ex-Captain John Westover recalled Nebraska's first entry into the larger football world at the time of the Minnesota game eleven years ago.

After the banquet the business men present met to discuss plans for making such a banquet an annual affair.

The idea of the feed originated with and was pushed to a conclusion by Mr. O. W. Palm, who was assisted by the following: Mayor A. H. Armstrong, John J. Ledwith, Joe Burnham, W. W. Hackney, Jr., A. C. Lau, Clyde Hayes, J. B. Waldo, Ike Raymond, M. J. Peters, Frank Gillen, C. C. Quiggle, Herbert E. Gooch, Louis C. Wettling, Chas. S. Sherman, and W. S. Whitten, secretary of the commercial club.

Elect Captain Today.

Manager Eager announced that the official picture would be taken at 11 o'clock this morning at St. George's Studio, and the captaincy election is set for two o'clock this afternoon. Manager Eager, Coach Stiehm and several of the players will leave for Omaha at 4:30 to be the guests of the Omaha University Club at a banquet this evening.

JUNIORS SEEK PLAY POSITIONS

"A ROYAL FAMILY" ATTRACTING THE ATTENTION OF MANY WHO SEEK PLACES ON CASTE.

More than twenty-five aspirants for places on the Junior play caste are busily at work "working up" scenes for the tryout which will be held in the Temple, Thursday, December 14th.

"A Royal Family," which the play committee selected for the Junior's annual production, is meeting with approval among the third year students who have signified their intention of trying out for places on the cast. There are twenty-five characters in the play, and most of them are prominent and afford a considerable range of character development.

Manuscripts of the play are on file at the reserve desk in the general library and can be taken out for the regular period of two hours.

All those intending to try out are urged to register for places today in room U. 106, between eleven and twelve o'clock. Another opportunity to register will be given tomorrow between twelve and one in U. 106.

OMAHA CLUB ON THURSDAY

FINAL ORGANIZATION OF MISSOURI RIVER STUDENTS SOON TO BE COMPLETED.

Final organization of the new Omaha Club will be effected Thursday, when Cornhusker boosters whose homes are in the vicinity of the river town will meet in Memorial Hall. Temporary President Sam Carrier has called the meeting for 11:30 o'clock, after quietly promoting and organizing the project since the preliminary meeting was held.

Being strictly for the purpose of promoting the University, principally but not solely in and near Douglas county, the new club is receiving the support of students of all classes.

The Innocents and Black Masques are on record as in favor of the organization of such clubs and such of their members as are eligible are understood to be affiliated with the Omaha Club. Other organizations are also boosting it and many members of the faculty have expressed their satisfaction at its organization.

CHANGES IN RULES ORDERED BY CONFERENCE

VALLEY MEET INVESTIGATES RESULTS OF PRESENT POLICY.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE OUT

The Meeting in Kansas City Proves
One of Importance for Valley Athletics.

Dr. Clapp and Coach Stiehm have returned from the Missouri Valley Conference meets at Lawrence and at Kansas City and brought home the basket ball schedule with a lot of assorted information.

The Conference basket ball teams are divided into two divisions. A southern division containing Washington, Kansas and Missouri. The northerners are Nebraska, Ames, Drake. The winning schools of the divisions will then play for the championship of the Valley.

Nebraska also has two games with Kansas, a southern team. These are not championship games.

Basketball Schedule.

The basket ball schedule has been given out and practically every date has been covered, as follows:

- January 12 or 13—Drake at Lincoln.
- January 18—Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.
- January 19 or 20—Kansas at Lawrence (not for championship).
- January 26—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
- February 9—Ames at Lincoln.
- February 16—Drake at Des Moines.
- February 23 or 24—Ames at Ames.
- March 1 or 2—Kansas at Lincoln (not for championship).

Among the rules passed in regard to the basket ball season were the following: To the point of unnecessary roughness, blocking the opponent by getting in his way is to be allowed; players must be numbered to facilitate the calling of personal fouls; the home team is absolutely responsible for the conduct of players.

The officials for the games were not selected, but will be by mail soon.

No Cut in Salaries.

A ruling of interest to all track men was made at the meeting held at Lawrence last Friday and Saturday. Hereafter any vaulter or high jumper may have three trials to make a record, after all his opponents have withdrawn or been beaten. This gives a good vaulter or jumper a chance to make a record even if his opponents are not good enough to force him to do his best.

Very little was done regarding football and football rules. In regard to the cutting of salaries for football officials, Dr. Clapp said: "So far as I am aware, no one in the Conference had any intention of presenting to us any ruling proposing a change in this matter."
