

SHONKA PREMIER TACKLE ACCORDING TO FIELDING YOST

That Sylvester Shonka of Nebraska is the greatest tackle in western football is the gist of a statement made by Fielding H. Yost, football mentor of Michigan University. According to the Omaha Bee, Yost in making the selection of his All-Western team, places Shonka ahead of Frank of Minnesota, who was mentioned for the All-American first team by some eastern sport writers. Yost says of Shonka: "It was said of the Nebraska captain that he had not been facing good teams, and when he got up against men of his own class he might not show so well, but in the Michigan game he never hesitated, but ripped Michigan's line wide open. He is the ONLY MAN WHO HAS EVER RIPPED THE MICHIGAN LINE."

Thanks, Yost, but it's no news to us.

CHARGES AGAINST PICKERING PROVED BY INVESTIGATION

Captain Earl Pickering was protested by Wisconsin a few days before the football game between the two schools. At the time there was a great deal of excitement at Minnesota by students and others who believed that the notice of protest should have been more days before the game. They withdrew Pickering from the game.

As this is not the first time that the captain has been protested and been before the athletic board at the northern school. This time the charges were investigated with care and proven to be true. In the summer of 1910 he received a salary while playing with Milbank, South Dakota.

EAR MUFFS

T. Pontius Quinn sat down upon the bench before the hotel and watched a half-grown pup waltz down the street. When the dog had disappeared from sight, he squinted at the end of his cigar and said: "The picture framed it up, but Radi-at-or."

MISS HRBEK AT CONVOCATION

BOHEMIAN PROFESSOR TO LECTURE ON RUSSIA THIS MORNING.

Prof. Sarka Hrbek will give an illustrated lecture on "Russia" this morning in Memorial Hall. Miss Hrbek spent last summer in Russia, and most of the slides to be shown were taken during her trip.

The views will give a clear conception of peasant life as it exists today. They will also show several of the Russian cities, and will convey the audience through the entire itinerary of her trip.

Miss Hrbek will discuss not only social environment, but also political conditions. She has several slides of the "Duma," and also of members of the royal family, including Grand Duke Alexis, around whom, as the next czar, much interest is centering. She will also devote some consideration to President Taft's special message regarding "passports," which is now commanding so much attention in this country.

DEBATES REVIEWED BY FACULTY MEN

MENTORS OF FORENSIC ART REFLECT OVER THE PAST AND GIVE GOOD ADVICE.

An interesting coterie assembled last night in U. 106 to listen to reviews of the intercollegiate debates, which took place last Friday.

Dean W. G. Hastings and Prof. E. E. Conant, who were judges at the Illinois-Iowa debate in Iowa City, gave an account of the points presented by these debaters. Both men commented favorably on the fairness with which the audience received the debate, and the interest which was shown by the large crowd present.

Prof. J. E. Le Rossiguol, Dr. Maxey, and Prof. G. E. Virtue reviewed the home debate with Iowa, giving much good advice to members of the Nebraska team.

Prof. M. M. Fogg, coach of the Nebraska debaters, who accompanied the team to Minneapolis, gave an interesting account of this forensic battle with the University of Minnesota.

This review of the debate by faculty members is an innovation at Nebraska, but the success which attended this first meeting will probably result in establishing it as an annual affair.

Negative Team Returns.

Nebraska's negative debating team, composed of T. J. Hargrave, H. A. Prince, and C. L. Rein, accompanied by Prof. M. M. Fogg, returned from Minneapolis Sunday morning, feeling bright and happy despite their defeat at the hands of the Gophers in Friday night's debate. The debaters feel that Nebraska's case was a strong one and that the failure to poll the other vote was due to the superiority of Minnesota's delivery, rather than their case.
