

GERMAN PICTURES SHOWN

SCENES OF THE FATHERLAND ON EXHIBIT IN UNIVERSITY HALLWAYS.

The German department has instituted a novel method of spreading knowledge of "der Vaterland" by displaying a series of pictures in University Hall. For this purpose they have put up a neat glass covered case, immediately in front of the south entrance. Lights placed in the case have made it quite conspicuous. It has been the center of much attention and comment during the last two days.

The views will be changed every three days. They will include scenes in many of the German cities, famous buildings, castles, and landscapes, and also a number of men prominent in history. The pictures are real photographs and are quite clear and distinct. The course will afford an interesting study of German society, geography, architecture, and history.
