

NEBRASKA TRACK TEAM PREPARING FOR CONTESTS

After running away with the Championship of the Missouri Valley in football and having a fair look-in on the basketball situation, it begins to look as though Nebraska would act the whole hog this year, and take the track championship for 1912.

Every evening that the Gym floor is not patronized by the tossers of the round spheroid, it is being put to use by the runners who are going to attempt to bring home the bacon from the dual meet which will determine the Missouri Valley champion for this year.

An abundance of new and old material has been showing up for practice, although only indoor work is allowable as yet. The greatest loss to the track this year is last year's captain, Guy Reed, who is at present devoting himself to the task of coaching the men. He was a quarter-miler and two-twenty man, holding records in each event.

Among the old men back are Becker, the half-miler, who ran Hill of Minnesota such a close race, the time being less than two minutes; Art May, who tied the intercollegiate record for the fifty-yard dash, and Anderson, this year's captain, the crack long distance man of the Valley. It is expected that Linstrum and Christmas will don gym suits in the near future.

There are a number of former high school stars among the new men. Reavis, the holder of the state record for the pole vault, is eligible for this year's team, as are Brannon, a crack quarter-miler from Lincoln and holder of the Nebraska indoor twenty-five-yard record; Kennedy, from Omaha, holder of the state mile record. Racely, the speedy football man and ex-Bellevue sprinter, has recovered from his football injury sufficiently to be out for some light work. Roberts seems to be showing up well in Nebraska's weak department, the low hurdles.

Few Fresh Caps Left.

Freshmen who ordered class caps are requested by the committee to get them at once at Mayer Brothers' hat department. The caps now on hand, which are being held for those who ordered them, are also being sought by freshmen who failed to order in advance, but who now desire caps. The committee therefore believes it will be justified in holding the caps for only a reasonable time for the original depositors, after which other members of the class will be allowed to buy them. Those who ordered, but have lost their deposit receipt, should secure a duplicate at the Rag office, as the receipt must be surrendered when the cap is secured.

See Les Hyde when in need of programs, menus and other printing.
