NEBRASKA INK SLINGERS AND MANAGERS ANNOUNCED

DINSMORE AND BUCHANAN TO HEAD STAFF OF COLLEGE DAILY NEXT SEMESTER.

BOARD CONSIDERS SOME CHANGES

Literary Department to Be Edited by Holmes—Taylor to Be Managing Editor.

Official notice of the election of a new Daily Nebraskan staff has been given out by the student publication board. A. H. Dinsmore, the present managing editor, was elected to the position of editor-in-chief, with Z. H. Taylor for managing editor. The business department of the paper will be managed by C. C. Buchanan.

A new feature of the paper will be the literary section, which will be in charge of Searle F. Holmes. He has been elected to the newly created position of literary editor. Two years ago a special literary edition was put out at intervals by the English Club. K. P. Frederick, who was editor at that time, was not satisfied with the idea and the issue was not continued. It is thought that a literary column published once a week will prove a valuable addition to the paper.

New Business System.

A new system of accounts is being considered by the board and, while no plans will be made public at present, it is said that the business managers will receive more co-operation from the board in the future. A complete system of orders, requisitions, checks, card files and account books is being worked out at present.

Other changes in the business policy are being discussed, but nothing definite has been announced by the board.

The New Staff Chosen.

The complete staff as selected by the student publication board is as follows: Editor-in-chief, A. H. Dinsmore; managing editor, Z. H. Taylor; literary editor, Searle F. Holmes; associate editors, F. C. McConnell and B. S. Hill; business manager, C. C. Buchanan; assistant business manager, J. V. Morrison; circulation manager, L. J. Breen.

All of these men, with the exception of Taylor and Hill, have been identified with the paper during the present semester. Both of these men had city newspaper experience and are expected to prove strong additions to the staff.

THE GREAT NEBRASKA CADET BAND

CHICAGO MAN WANTS TO COLLECT FIFTY DOLLARS

EDWARD MANLEY CLAIMS PATENT ON EAGER'S GOAL POSTS.

LOW PRICE FOR DESIGNS QUOTED

No Action Taken in the Matter—Two Hundred Dollars Usual Price.

One of the most peculiar claims ever brought against the University of Nebraska athletic management, and taking equal rank with the claim for medical services by the voiceless rooster, is one that comes from the office of Edward Manley of Chicago.

Manager E. O. Eager placed a couple of new-fangled goal posts on Nebraska field last fall and those people who sat upon the grandstand and watched the Cornhuskers take the games in gave forth many admiring comments.

A Patented Goal Post.

Now the manager has received a letter requesting that Nebraska pay to Edward Manley fifty large round silver dollars because he thought of the model first and has a patent on the aforesaid design of goal post.

Mr. Manley states that his usual charge for the use of his design is two hundred dollars, but as Nebraska has had them up for some time, he will find a check for fifty dollars very acceptable just now. No action has been taken by the manager or by the board.

Union Meets.

Members of the Union Literary Society will meet at Townsend's Studio, Saturday at 1:00 o'clock, for the Cornhusker picture.

Fresh Hop Plans.

The members of the Freshman Hop committee are requested to meet in the "Rag" office, Thursday at 11:00 a. m.

BAND HAS MANY FRIENDS

ORGANIZATIONS PLAN THEATER PARTIES FOR FRIDAY CONCERT.

The University band concert at the Oliver theater next Friday bids fair to be a great success. All of the productions to be rendered at that time have been rehearsed over and over again for the past three weeks and are in shape to be given even though no more practices were possible. Four rehearsals, however, are being held this week.

Student organizations are planning to attend the concert en masse. It was rumored on the campus last night that one of the cadet companies was planning a theater party in honor of the occasion. A Nebraskan reporter was informed by one student that he understood that Company I was arranging to attend in a body, but he did not know how far the plans had been carried. "It is mere rumor, so far as I am able to state," he said, when pressed for a more definite statement.

Other organizations are reported to be making plans, but none would have much to say about it. One girl boasted that the organization to which she belonged needed no publicity. "We will do our duty by the band, though," she emphatically announced.

TYPHOID SCARE AT FARM

BUT ONE STUDENT ILL AND NO EPIDEMIC OF DISEASE IS FEARED.

But one student of the State Farm has typhoid fever. F. O. Arnold is reported very low with the disease.

Principal Hunter warned all the students against the city water and his warning stands vindicated, for Mr. Arnold's illness was caused by drinking the condemned supply. The Farm water system is independent of the city plant and is absolutely safe.

COTTON THIRD ASPIRANT FOR JUNIOR PRESIDENT

KEARNEY MAN ENTERS THE FIELD FOR HONORS.

WARM RACE IS ANTICIPATED

Three Cornered Fight to Occupy the Interest of Third Year Students.

Harry Cotton, a junior engineer, has announced himself as the third candidate for the presidency of the class of 1913.

Cotton is from Kearney, is a member of the Engineering Society, and played on the junior football team. He is also a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and is master of ceremonies of the Junior Prom.

There are two other candidates in the field for the honor of Junior presidency, namely, Randall and Forbes, and with this new addition the coming race promises to be the hottest the class of 1913 has ever seen in any of its previous elections.

It is even whispered about that other candidates will be announced to the unsuspecting public when the "proper time comes."
