THE UNIVERSITY BAND.

Once again we take our Underwood in hand to call the attention of the pleasure-loving student body to a student organization really worthy their patronage.

We speak of the University Band, and the concert which it purposes to give at the Oliver Theatre Saturday evening next.

Football season has now become a thing of the past, and there remains to us simply memory of the triumphs we witnessed on Nebraska field and elsewhere. Triumphs they were certainly, and the work of the team has low these men who have worked to make themselves a credit to Nebraska to give a concert to a room containing only complimentaries and empty chairs, while our small change dribbled into the coffers of a dance, some other amusement resort, or who knows what.

We owe something to the band, and we ought to pay it. Last year it cost the boys nearly two dollars apiece to give their concert. That we think was disgraceful.

Certainly we can't afford to allow repetition of such a thing. We might add that this is entirely gratis, scoff who may.

We are for the Band.

drawn its full mead of praise at home and abroad.

But who is there that can recall any of the games on the home field, or who is there who made the Minneapolis, Ames or Kansas trips who will fail to recall in connection with these games the Trojan work of the cadet band on each occasion? Everywhere it went it was hailed with delight, and though the sore spots of defeat often prevented the opponents from giving to the team just credit, no exchange which comes to our office failed to praise Nebraska's Band.

It was great. Not one of us but called loudly for music when it appeared at the games—not one of us but enjoyed it.

Then it was free. Now a slight admission fee is to be charged, but is our enjoyment of the band and its work to be bounded by a line of quarters or halves or dollars? We think not.

It would be pretty poor of us to al-

Eager to Chicago.

Manager Eager has gone to Chicago to attend the meeting of the Big Eight powers and will probably bring back definite news of games with some of the Chicago Conference teams for next fall.

Alumni Marriage.

The marriage of John Burkett, 1907, and Miss Alma Herminghaus of Lincoln took place yesterday. Mr. Burkett formerly attended the University and was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

For your orchestra call O. L. Jones. Auto L-8605.

Notice.

The Tegner Society is to meet at Townsend's Studio, Saturday at 11:00 a. m., for the Cornhusker picture.
