GUS LOFGREN OUT FOR SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT

FOOTBALL STAR ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY—ONLY MAN NOW IN FIELD.

A FRESHMAN ASPIRANT IS RUMORED

Roger McCullah, Phi Delt Pledge, May Enter Fight to eHad First Year Students.

Gus Lofgren, a senior engineer of Ponca, Nebraska, has announced himself as a candidate for the presidency of the fourth year class for this semester.

Lofgren has been one of the most prominent men in his class through out his university course, and especially in the engineering college. On the Cornhusker football squad he has held the position of right end for two seasons and has played in all the big games. Besides being a noted football man he has received honor in other lines, having been chairman of the junior hop and on the committee of several other important hops.

It is the general opinion about the campus that Lofgren will be a hard candidate to defeat, accordingly much interest is being shown by the political devotees in that class.

Juniors Taking Part.

Seemingly most of the enthusiasm in political lines with regard to the junior class came before the examinations, and at present as there are about as many candidates in the field as the law will allow, things are very quiet. The junior class candidates are Will Randall, Jerome Forbes and Harry Cotton. All these men have been prominent in class affairs and are well known in the University. In view of these facts, the race promises to be highly interesting.

In the sophomore class two candidates have announced, Don Wood and Carl Nagel. For sophomores these men have been very active in the University, and are therefore well known in their class. Like the juniors, the sophomores do not seem at present very politically inclined.

As for the freshmen, nothing has been announced as to who will make a try for the second semester honor. However, it is rumored that Roger McCullough, Phi Delta Theta pledge, will be announced in a few days by some of his fellow classmen.

LAW'S HOME UNCHANGED

THE FRESHMEN FOLLOWERS OF BLACKSTONE TO STAY ON THIRD FLOOR.

The strains of "Cheer! Cheer!" will in all probability continue to drive into distraction the fastidious professors of the upper regions of University building for the rest of the semester. The freshmen laws were changed at the beginning of the semester from a room on the second floor to room 304 on the third floor and there they will likely remain the rest of the year. With the present enrollment the room is just filled to a comfortable capacity as far as seating facilities go and until a decided increase in numbers occurs no changes will be made. According to the registrar, if any are made they will be toward the Temple.

THIEVES TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE CROWDED CONDITION IN THE GIRLS' COAT ROOM

A considerable amount of petty thievery has been reported from the girls' coat room in the Library. Articles of various descriptions from lunches to money, have been taken. One co-ed even reported that a hundred pages of paper had been stolen from her.

This condition is probably aggravated by the over-crowded condition of the coat room. No locker system is provided, in fact there is no other room of any kind in which the co-eds may hang their wraps, except a very small one in the gymnasium.

Because of the lack of proper facilities for taking care of their wraps, the majority of University girls are forced to wear their coats and hats to class, as they cannot afford to run the risk of losing them.

FACULTY MEMBERS AT PICNIC

UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS MEN AT THE TEMPLE.

The February meeting of the University Women's club, held yesterday afternoon at the Temple, was given over to the annual indoor picnic. Two picnics are held each year, one in the winter, held indoors and one in the spring, usually at the Farm. To these picnics the men of the faculty are invited.

At the regular afternoon meeting, a musical program was given in Music hall. Miss Jessie Graves rendered several piano selections, and the remainder of the program consisted of a Victrola concert, the Victrola furnished and operated by E. R. Guthrie.

The basket supper, to which the men were invited was held at 6:30, following the program. The tables in the banquet hall were piled high with baskets of the regular picnic variety, and after partaking of the liberal spread, impromptu speeches were made by members of the faculty and the ladies.

SORORITY RUSHING PLANNED

SEASON WILL LAST FOR ONLY TWO DAYS, OPENING FEB. 14.

At a meeting of the Inter-Sorority council last night, it was decided that rushing would begin at 5 o'clock Wednesday, February 14. The rushing will last for two days, until 5 o'clock Friday, when written invitations will be sent out by Miss Conklin. These will be answered in person at 4 o'clock Saturday. After February 17, rushing will be open for the rest of the year.

The rushing is expected to be more strenuous this year than for some time past, on account of the unusual number of freshman girls entering in the middle of the year. There will be no rushing or pledging until the second semester. This plan was adopted some time ago, in fact, before Christmas. For some time a committee has been working upon the regulations for this new system and at the last meeting reported favorable progress. The next meeting of the council will be held February 19, at which time some very definite steps will be taken as to regulations for the future.

PAPER FOR MUSIC STUDENTS

"THE FOLIO" WILL BE ISSUED EACH WEEK BY THE CONSERVATORY.

The first issue of the musical student's new publication, "The Folio," was out Wednesday morning. The paper is to be a review of the current news in the musical world and contains accounts of all the happenings about the conservatory as well as other events happening in the vicinity. Personals relating to music students are numerous.

The first issue, which is to be followed by one every week, contains a very interesting account of a recital given at the Conservatory Wednesday.

The staff of the new paper is composed of Seniors and Juniors in the school of music. The expense of publication is partly borne by the subscription price of 25 cents a year, the deficit being made up by the conservatory officials. No advertising is published.

The staff of the paper as now made up is composed of:

Aura Stewart, editor-in-chief.
Josephine Sanford, senior associate.
Margaret Grove, junior associate.
Ethel Biles, business.

Strange to say no dearth of subscriptions has been felt, almost the entire enrollment subscribing before the first issue was out.

ANNUAL PROGRESSING WELL

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF VAN DUSEN WELL PLEASED WITH HIS STAFF.

Dana Van Dusen, editor-in-chief of the 1912 Cornhusker, made the remark yesterday that he was very much pleased with the manner in which his staff were collecting the necessary material for the big annual. Never before has there been so much interest shown on the part of a staff as these has been this year. Early in the season the chosen journalists began their respective duties, and since then write-ups and cartoons have been rapidly coming in.

In order that the work on hand might be better organized, a meeting of the Cornhusker staff has been called for 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening. All members of the staff are urged to be present so that a report may be given on the work they have been doing.

JUNIOR CLASS PLANS WEEK OF FESTIVITIES

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES DATES OF PLAY AND PROM.

FORMAL DANCE WILL BE LIMITED

Tickets For Affair Now on Sale—Cast of "A Royal Family" Busy at Work.

Extensive preparations are being made by the committees in charge to make this year's Junior Week one of the most festive in the history of the institution. The dates that have been set for the Junior's annual celebration are February 22, 23 and 24. On the first date mentioned a special convocation will be held in the Temple at which time a novel program will be put on by a committee, of which Jerome Forbes is chairman.

Junior Play at the Oliver.

On the night of the 23rd, "A Royal Family" will be presented at the Oliver by a specially selected cast from members of the third year class. The idea of having a Junior play originated with the present graduating class and was so popular that it was readily taken up by this year's Juniors. Fred McConnell is chairman of the play committee which has been working for some time to make the affair a success. Miss Howell of the Education department is coaching the play and is holding rehearsals each night at the Temple. "A Royal Family" is a play that is particularly adapted to amateurs for the reason that signal opportunity is afforded for a liberal display of talent. The cast was selected several months ago and has been working continuously on the three acts of this clever piece.

The principal parts will be carried by Florence Hostettler, Louise Wyman, Miriam Clark, Harry Coffee, Otto Sinkie, Thad Saunders and Fred McConnell. The cast however is a large one and will be filled by a competent supporting company.

Prom Tickets $3.00.

The Junior Prom will be given Saturday night at the Lincoln hotel, February 24. Art May is chairman of the Prom committee and promises that the dance will be a good one. As is the custom, the dance will be limited to only upper classmen and alumni. The tickets have been distributed to members of the committee and are on sale for $3.00. Walt's orchestra will furnish the music, and the dance will be formal.
