HOW SHALL WE VOTE?

The confusion which prevailed in the recent Junior election, causing a recount of votes, suggests the advisability of establishing a new system of voting.

There are about an equal number of arguments for and against a change in the present system. Last year the class of 1912 appointed a committee to investigate the matter, and suggest new plans, but as is so often the case, the committee failed to report. It has often been suggested, however, that the Australian system of balloting be adopted, as is now the case with the election of the Athletic Board. By a proper use of this system any chance of padding the vote can be eliminated, for the standing of each student can, by a previous reference to the records of the registrar, be definitely determined. As the student votes his name is checked off the list and any chance of repetition is impossible.

This system requires at least a half a day, if properly conducted, for the voters cannot be "rounded up" in less than that time. It may also be said that if sufficient time is taken, a more representative vote is secured than under the present system, for in the course of a few hours nearly every member of a class can be reached. This offers more opportunity for hard work on the part of the candidates and ardent supporters, who can spend a day electioneering.

But there are several arguments on the other side of the question. An all-day election is never so spirited as one in which the voters are assembled to cheer the introduction of their favorite or hoot at the appearance of the opponent. In fact, it is claimed by many that it is next to impossible to create any interest in an election whose result cannot be immediately determined.

Such are a few of the arguments advanced for and against a change in the system. The question is a live one and deserves consideration from the student body, especially those politically inclined.

WHY LIST IS PUBLISHED.

The names of those students who were subscribers to the Daily Nebraskan last semester but have not renewed their subscription this semester are being published today. There is no malicious intent concealed in this action. It is done merely to acquaint these students with the fact that their subscriptions have expired. Perhaps there will be some who have re-subscribed. In this event the management will be glad to have attention called to the fact, as in checking over the new subscriptions it is possible that some escaped attention. It is partially to ascertain whether this condition exists that this list is being published.

AN EXPLANATION.

Yes, the quality of paper which we have used for the past few days is nothing to boast of. It is not the result of economizing, nor of the high cost of living, but rather of a shortage in the quality of paper which we usually use.

The present condition of affairs will continue only until the exhausted supply can be replenished.

INITIATION WEEK.

Will someone please elucidate?
 I really want to know.
 What is the use
 Of all the abuse
 We freshmen undergo?
