CORNHUSKERS CLINCH VALLEY CHAMPIONSHIP

JAYHAWKERS BEATEN IN FIRST OF SERIES 49 TO 21.

HANZLIK AND CARRIER STARS

Nebraska Excels in Team Play, But Visiting Quintette Puts Up Game Fight.

Nebraska settled all question as to the championship of the Missouri Valley in basketball last night when she defeated Kansas by a score of 49 to 21. The game was one-sided from start to finish, in spite of the hard fight put up by the Jayhawkers. A number of fouls were called, mostly on Nebraska, but as a whole the game was characterized by clean, fast work on both sides.

Nebraska Opens Battle.

The first score was a throw from the field by Nebraska, after the ball had been in play a short time. The ball had hardly been returned from the center when a foul was called on Nebraska. This was followed by another foul, Kansas making both free throws.

Nebraska Continues Scoring.

During the next few minutes of play Nebraska piled up six or seven goals to Kansas' three. The game was especially fast at this point, as a number of long, pretty throws were made by Carrier and Hanzlik for Nebraska, and by Stuckey and Brown for Kansas. The score at the end of the first half stood 28 to 12 in Nebraska's favor.

Jayhawkers Play Faster.

The Cornhusker team began the second half by a goal after a moment's play. Kansas braced at this juncture and put up a hard fight to the end. The ball was well returned by the Jayhawkers, but their men could not throw baskets. Goal after goal was made by Frank's men until the last half ended 21 to 9, with a final score of 49 to 21.

All Men Play Star Game.

Hanzlik and Carrier starred for Nebraska in throwing baskets, while Frank played a wonderful game at guard. Haskell and Hiltner also put up a fast exhibition, the Cornhusker team play being wonderful.

Stuckey played a strong game for Kansas, but the odds were against him. Brown threw a number of long returns, but was unable to hit the basket. The team work of the Jayhawkers was all that prevented a much worse defeat than that sustained.

Band Aids Organized Rooting.

Before the game and during the intermission the University band played some of its old favorites, much to the appreciation of the spectators. Cheer leaders kept up the spirit by frequent rooting from the sidelines.

A VIEW OF COLLEGE LIFE

THAT'S WHAT WILL BE OFFERED AT THE UNIVERSITY NIGHT PRODUCTIONS.

What promises to be one of the most novel and unique entertainments yet seen this year is the program which has been arranged for "University Night," which will be held in the Temple this evening at 8:30 o'clock. This is a University occasion representative of all phases of college life as seen through the eyes of the cartoonist. It was first inaugurated by the University Y. M. C. A., and this evening's celebration is being promoted by that organization.

The curtain will first rise on the Mandolin club, which promises to make the air sweet with some selections from the "Spring Maid."

As a venture of a rather serious vein, will be the presentation of "The Diary" by members of the Dramatic club. This is a little playlet written by Dana Van Dusen depicting a pathetic incident from real life. Earl Sage will appear in the principal part and will be assisted by Marie Douglas and Louis Horne.

The Agricultural club will give a realistic version of farm life. Members of the faculty will be the principal sources of delight in the sketch.

The fourth number on the program will be a couple of selections by the Glee club.

"Down on the Santa Fe" is the alluring title of the engineers' novelty. The real "I've been working on the railroad" idea will be worked out in this number and it is expected that several prominent engineers will be seen in characteristic parts.

The Palladians and the Unions will concentrate on the faculty by presenting a life-like portrayal of a Senate meeting. It is said that no one will be spared, from the Chancellor down.

Instead of an operating table for their scene, as was the case last year, the Medics will use Dr. Lyman's drug counter as a means of displaying their wit.

The program will be closed with a "rush" when the fraternity men present their original spectacle of "Side-lights on Rush Week." This is a creation emanating from the fertile brains of "Peanut Hill" and C. F. Radcliffe.

Arrangements for University Night have been in the hands of the following committee, which will supervise the evening's festivities: Vern Bates, chairman; Fred McConnell, B. S. Hill, Ernie Frank, Dana Van Dusen, and Guy Kiddo.

Kansas Play a Success.

"Billy" was recently produced by the Kansas Dramatic club and was decidedly a success. This was true financially, especially as it cleared $125.

COUNT TELLS OF BOHEMIA

NOBLEMAN DENIES BLOOD OF HIS PEOPLE IS RELATED TO THAT OF GYPSIES.

Count Luetzow, the distinguished Bohemian nobleman who spoke at convocation yesterday, was introduced by Chancellor Avery as "perhaps the greatest European statesman, scholar and historian who ever stood upon this platform."

The object of the count's visit to this country is to interest Americans in Bohemia, and his talk was devoted to the history of that country. He began by showing that the blood of the Bohemians was not related to that of the gypsies, as is generally supposed. Then he gave a brief history of his native land.

The count's voice, which is usually clear and strong, showed the effects of the unaccustomed exertion of a week of constant speaking. The count himself was not quite in his usual health, having been somewhat affected by the rigor of the American winter.

In personal appearance Count Luetzow would pass almost anywhere as a prosperous American business man. He has the hale, ruddy face and cheery smile of an optimist. His command of English is quite remarkable, but his accent is distinctly foreign.

NOT QUITE WHAT IT SEEMS

SORORITY LIFE HAS DRAWBACKS AS WELL AS COMPENSATIONS, SAYS GREEK CO-ED.

It may look as if it were all joy and bliss within a sorority house.

The passerby sees a group of girls dressed up prettily sitting on the front porch. He doesn't see the kitchen or the back porch, or the laundry room.

"Oh, it has its compensations," said one Greek co-ed, who had a gaunt, hungry look upon her countenance, but you sometimes miss 'mother' when the cook gets sick and the maid leaves."

"What do you mean?" she was asked.

"Why, our cook went and got sick a week ago Saturday. Next day was 'open house' and four 'rushees' coming to dinner. We haven't heard of her since."

"What have you been doing?"

"What haven't we been doing! We've been cooking and washing and scrubbing and getting up at five and cutting classes and beating rugs and—I don't know what we'd have done if we hadn't had three domestic science girls. Oh, dear, there goes the phone and the grocery boy is knocking at the back door and it's my turn to wash the dishes and Jack's coming over. Oh, don't go—here's your hat—good bye."

Refuses Navy's Challenge.

Wisconsin has refused a challenge to row Annapolis this season. The reason given is that the trip to Annapolis would weaken the crew and spoil its chances to make a showing on the Hudson, where Wisconsin will row in the regatta, shortly after the date named in the navy's challenge.

FOUR CANDIDATES OUT FOR IVY DAY ORATOR

RALPH GARRETT, J. F. ROHN AND D. M. ROGERS ANNOUNCE.

COTNER IS THE FIRST IN THE FIELD

Election Will Probably Be Held at Meeting of Senior Class Some Time This Month.

Four candidates have now announced for Ivy Day orator. Sam Cotner, former editor-in-chief of the Daily Nebraskan, was the first. Yesterday, Ralph W. Garrett, of Madison; J. F. Rohn, of Pierce, and D. M. Rogers, of Randolph, voiced their aspirations for the honor.

All of the candidates are more or less prominent in University as well as senior class affairs. Garrett is a member of Alpha Theta Chi, Phi Alpha Tau and Delta Sigma Rho. He was a member of the University debating team that met Iowa last semester and was chairman of the inter-class debating board. He has participated in a number of class debates in addition to taking an active part in other affairs of his class throughout his University career. He is a senior in the academic school.

Rogers is an innocent, was twice a member of the University debating squad and participated in a number of class debates, being a member of the team the year that it won the inter-class debating championship. He is a senior in the academic school and is a member of Phi Alpha Tau.

Two Senior Laws Out.

Rohn is a senior law and was formerly a student at the state normal school, where he was active in debating and oratorical circles. Cotner is best known for his former connection with the Daily Nebraskan. He also has engaged in debating. He is a senior law.

The election of Ivy Day orator will probably be made at a meeting of the senior class some time the latter part of this month.

The inter-class debate between the seniors and juniors will be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening, in U. 106. The seniors will maintain the affirmative side of the recall of judges. R. H. Beatty, S. O. Cotner and B. B. Johnson are the members of the senior team, while H. J. Burtis, Jerome R. Forbes and Clayton Radcliffe will debate for the juniors.

The debate will be open to all who can attend. The judges are Professors Hastings, Virtue and Conant.
