FARM COMPANY LOSES TO PERSHING RIFLES

FIRST REGIMENT ORGANIZATION
WINS ANNUAL CONTEST.

ANOTHER BRIGADE PARADE TODAY

Will Be Held on Campus of Agricultural School and Will Include Both Regiments.

The Pershing Rifles, the crack military organization of the First regiment, duplicated its performance of last year by defeating the Workizers, the skilled company of the Farm regiment, in the annual contest held yesterday. The points for the University boys stood 44.29, while the Workizers finished with an average of 41.22. Commandant Yates and Major Frankforter were the judges of the contest.

The officers of the winning company are Captain R. T. Guthrie, First Lieutenant C. K. Paine, and Second Lieutenant J. B. Spaulding.

The Second regiment, which is in camp this week, worked out some field problems Wednesday morning and in the afternoon regimental review was held.

A Rare Sight.

Brigade parade, a ceremony never seen at the State University until this year, will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the State Farm. Students of the University who were unable to witness the parade of the two regiments of the University and State Farm students on the athletic field Tuesday evening will be given another opportunity to witness a military ceremony which is certain not to be held again for a year.

This was the first parade to have been held in Lincoln with two regiments participating since the Spanish American war in 1898, when the First and Second Nebraska infantry were in the city. The parade Tuesday evening was held on the "spur" of the monument and a few students and Lincoln citizens witnessed it. In order to give the students another opportunity to witness one of the most magnificent military functions ever to be seen in Lincoln, Commandant Yates has announced that the second parade of the brigade will be held this evening.

Special Cars Chartered.

Special cars have been chartered to carry the University regiment to the State Farm, where the annual competitive drill of the State Farm companies and the individual "compet" will be held during the afternoon. During the parade Governor Aldrich will present the cups to the captain of the winning company and also to the two men winning the individual compet. All cadets have been excused from four o'clock classes or laboratory periods at that hour.

Mrs. Le Rossignol to Talk

Mrs. Le Rossignol's last class, which has been several times postponed, will be held Friday evening in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. She will answer the questions as to social conventions which have been handed in and others which may come up for discussion.

FEJER CALLERS NOW

SORORITY HOUSES LESS POPULAR ON SUNDAYS SINCE THE CLOSE OF FORMAL SEASON.

With the close of the formal party season of the fraternities and sororities now at hand, there has been a very noticeable decrease in the number of Sunday afternoon callers at the various sorority houses.

"It certainly is remarkable," said one caller, laughing, "how the men have stopped calling since our formal. Why, last Sunday, there were only six callers altogether at our house, while for the month or so before the party there would be fifty or more every time. Of course, now that the weather is nice, some of the regular callers are making individual dates to go walking and on picnics, instead of calling. Even allowing for this, however, a formal party in the near future surely does increase the number of men who are anxious to know our bunch."

HURT WHILE WATCHING GAME

Dale Boyles Struck in Face and Painfully Injured.

While watching the inter-fraternity baseball game between the Delta Upsilon and Kappa Sigma teams at University field Tuesday morning, Dale Boyles, senior in the college of law, was struck in the face by a wild thrown ball. His nose was almost broken and it was said by his fraternity brothers at the Delta Tau house that the injury was affecting his left eye. Boyles was rendered almost unconscious by the blow and was half carried, half led from the field.

The Delta Upsilon team won the game 6 to 1 by clean, fast playing.

Roberts Talks to Engineers.

A meeting of the Engineering Society last night was addressed by H. W. Roberts, assistant state engineer of Nebraska bridge and irrigation works.

LABORATORIES BUSY NOW

APPROACH OF END OF SCHOOL
BRINGS EARNEST DESIRE TO WORK.

Both chemical laboratories are rushed to the limit the last few weeks. Scarcely a desk is open and often students have difficulty in securing desks at their regular hours. This has very perceptibly added to the fierce heat in the labs by promoting heated discussion over the right to a particular place to work.

The cause of this extraordinary desire in the labs is the approach of the end of school. Those who sluffed the earlier part of the term must now make up time and get their work up or be turned in incomplete. Every year about this time a lot of extra time is put in either to permit skipping lab later in the year, or to make up previous "cuts."

QUESTION FOR DEBATE PICKED

FEDERAL CHARTERS FOR CORPORATIONS WILL BE SUBJECT OF UNIVERSITY CONTESTS.

"Resolved, That all corporations engaged in inter-state business should be required to take out federal charters, it being conceded that such a requirement would be constitutional and that federal license shall not be available as an alternative plan," is the question which will be threshed out by the various University teams composing the Central Debating League next year.

The question was proposed by Wisconsin, and although official announcement has not yet been made, Prof. F. M. Fogg said yesterday that the majority vote favors this question, although the phrasing may be altered somewhat.

Definite announcement will be made later as to whether or not the seminar or debating squad will be chosen this spring. The team, of course, will not be picked until next fall.

TEMPLE HIGH TO GIVE PLAY.

Senior Class Will Present "Cupid at Vassar" Saturday Night.

Something new in the high school line will be the play "Cupid at Vassar," which the senior class of the Temple High is going to put on at the Temple theatre Saturday night.

The play as originally produced was full of novelties and song hits, and while it will be impossible to duplicate all of these, some will be retained. The cast includes several clever soloists and this talent will be taken advantage of. One of the features will be the "Daisy Chain" drill, which appears in the closing act. The chorus for this is being trained by Miss Davis of the physical education department, while the general direction of the play is in the hands of F. C. McConnell, of the University.

Seats are now on sale at the Temple. The prices are thirty-five and twenty-five cents.

THOSE AWFUL FRESHMEN!

ONE OF THEM SPELLED IT "TEUS-DAY" ON BULLETIN BOARD.

Again, we must jump onto the freshmen. The attention of one of the reporters was called Saturday, to the poster on the billboard, to the effect that a freshman class meeting would be held "Teusday" morning.

We gladly concede that the average freshman is not responsible for his acts, but this is entirely out of the question; this, in fact, beats anything we have seen for years.

After due consideration we have decided to let it go this time; however, if we find the guilty freshman (providing we can locate him) has not improved in his spelling by the time he is at least a senior, then, we shall be compelled to say some divers things that might slander said freshman.

NEBRASKA AND AMES WILL MEET SATURDAY

COACH STIEHM PREDICTS VICTORY FOR HIS PROTEGES.

CORNHUSKERS LOOM UP STRONG

Visitors Expected to Win Hurdles, Weights and Jumps, But Surprises Are Not at All Unlikely.

Saturday at 2:30 p. m., Nebraska will meet Ames on the local athletic field in the first dual meet to be held at home this year. Nebraska is reported to have a good team in excellent condition and, though going up against a strong team, will win the meet, according to Coach Stiehm. The coach says that the score will be close, but he has no fears as to the outcome.

Nebraska is especially strong in the 100, 440, 880 and mile runs, the pole vault, half and mile relays and the 220-yard dash. In the mile Ames has a good man in Captain Farquhar. Ames is conceded the hurdles and the weights, as well as the high and broad jumps, though Nebraska is expected to score in all of these events, and there may be several surprises in them.

Track in Good Shape.

The track is in excellent shape and the weather man reports fine weather for Saturday, so that there appears no reason why this meet should not be a great one. The meet will be run off fast, with no tiresome delays between events.

The entries of the two teams are as follows:

100-yard dash—Ames: Clutter, Iverson, Kaiser, Keeney. Nebraska: May, Christmas, Racely.

One-mile run—Ames: Clarkson, Farquhar, Hobson, Ward. Nebraska: Anderson, Kennedy, Bates, Becker, Boggs.
