TWO REGIMENTS JOIN IN SPECTACULAR PARADE

NEARLY THOUSAND MEN PARTICIPATE IN BRIGADE REVIEW.

COMPANY E WINS COMPETITION

Remaining Companies Honor Victor by Marching Past It With "Eyes Right."

The First regiment of University cadets assembled at 4:00 o'clock yesterday and entrained for the Farm, where a brigade review was held with the Second regiment of Farm cadets. In spite of the lowering clouds which threatened rain at any minute, a crowd of co-eds from both campus and Farm were present, along with townspeople and "kids" from the neighborhood, so that the parade was well attended.

There are nine companies on the campus and five at the Farm, making a total of nearly a thousand men, which is the largest number of infantry assembled in Lincoln at one review for many years. The companies were massed on the field in battalions, with the Second, or Farm, regiment holding the place of honor on the right and the First regiment, consisting of three battalions, on the left.

High Wind an Interference.

On account of the high wind it was extremely difficult for the adjutant to make his orders heard, and at times it was necessary to resort to the bugle to transmit the commands.

Company E, the winning company in the Farm competitive drill, was marched to the center of the field, facing the brigade, and at the command of the adjutant, "Pass in review," the companies were set in motion and marched around the field behind the band. Thirteen companies marched past the winning company, giving "eyes right," the salute of a company to officers or winning company, and a time-worn tradition at Nebraska.

Parade Down O Street.

After the review the Second regiment was dismissed and the First was marched to the special cars which had been used on the out trip. Arrived in the city, the boys marched down O street for a couple of blocks for the edification of the home-going crowds that usually throng the streets about 6 p. m. Open air cars were used for the trip, which was made more entertaining by songs and yells.

Commandant Yates, Major Julius Penn, Captain Phil Hall and two lieutenants from Fort Crook comprised the reviewing officers during the parade.

TO HOLD OPEN AIR DANCE

SOPHOMORE HOP WILL BE GIVEN AT CAPITAL BEACH PAVILLION, MAY 29.

Among the closing social events of the present school year will be a decided novelty—arrangements have been made to hold the sophomore hop in the pavillion at Capital Beach. The committee has secured the exclusive use of the park for the evening of Wednesday, May 29, the day before Decoration day, and will hold the dance there at that time.

The park will not be open then and Manager Buckstaff has assured the committee of its exclusive use for the evening. The lack of earlier open dates and the general inconvenience and discomfort of an indoor dance so late in the year is assigned by Chairman Enfield, of the dance committee, as his reason for the change from the usual order of things.

"The dance floor of the pavillion is fully as large and as good as the floor of the ball room at the Lincoln hotel," says the chairman of the committee. "If anything, the floor is a little larger. It was put in by Manager Buckstaff last year entirely new and special pains were taken in its construction."

"In the event of rain, the sides of the pavillion could be closed partly down, leaving the dancers in as good shape as if the dance were being held indoors. Refreshments will be served in the large cafe that is connected with the dance floor, and an adjoining room in which private parties are generally held, will be converted into a cloakroom for the girls, and every possible feature that would go with a downtown dance is also enjoyable there."

Delta Gamma sorority held a dance at the park last spring and several fraternities and sororities are trying to arrange dates for dances there this year.

TURNED OFF THE LIGHTS

UNKNOWN MISCREANTS BROKE UP STUDY IN THE LAW LIBRARY.

While the law students, or a large part of them, were busily at work in the law library last night, some unknown and mysterious persons gave three war whoops and turned out the lights in the library.

Immediately all the laws present started in pursuit of those who did the act, but before anyone could arrive on the scene the miscreants were gone.

The next thing was to get the lights on in the library in order that the laws could get back to their duties. However, the switch could not be found, though it was searched for all over the building. In view of the fact that only one table was lighted, many of the laws went home.

Several members of the class in engineering economics, including Martin, Rohwer, Pearse, Kiplinger and Leonard, will go to Fremont, Friday, to make an appraisal of the city waterworks. They will probably return Sunday.

PICNICS THE RAGE NOW

PEN WOODS AND OTHER FAVORITE SPOTS THROGGED WITH OUTDOOR PARTIES.

Picnicking has been all the rage the last few days of spring weather. Parties varying from two to twenty in number range Lincoln Park, the Penitentiary woods and all the other favorite spots about Lincoln every afternoon, indeed not always stopping with the afternoon. Campfires are seen here and there over the woods each evening, and often the delicious odor of burnt frankfurters and scorched coffee rend the air with their fragrance. Salt creek is photographed many times a day now as "the river flowing past the place we picnicked at," and the ice cream cone man as "the man who brought us our provisions." Indeed, so much has this craze increased the camera fever that all the photo developers in town are far overworked.

A particularly novel stunt was pulled off Wednesday when at one of the eighteen parties at the Pen woods a fine sirloin steak was broiled over a campfire on a piece of chicken netting. If this method becomes popular the fences about the woods are in sad danger.

Our Idea of Nothing to Do.

Being a fraternity freshman—rise at 6, clean up ye lodge 6 to 7:30, breakfast 7:30 to 7:39, then comes a little bucking class 9 till 12, rake the lawn and sweep the walks 12 till 1:30 with a light lunch (emphasis on light), classes until 5:30, a rush back to the house—oil the dumb waiter, chop one cord of wood, freeze the ice cream. White collar for dinner. A few little errands for the upperclassmen till ten bells—buck for an hour—whoops, my dear—nothing to do till tomorrow.—Daily Maroon.

CORNHUSKER TEAM READY

KEARNEY NORMAL EXPECTED TO BE EASY—NO LETTERS FOR PLAYERS.

Nebraska and Kearney Normal baseball teams will play on University field at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Cornhuskers are in excellent condition and expect to have little difficulty in disposing of the pedagogues. Rodman or Schmidt will work for Stiehm's men, though Schma may be given a chance to show what he has in stock. The line-up is likely to be little changed from that which faced Tarklo.

It was stated yesterday by Coach Stiehm that no "Ns" would be bestowed on this year's baseball players. The insufficient schedule, late start and difficulty in re-establishing baseball as one of the leading varsity sports are assigned as reasons. Next year and thenceforth it is expected that baseball players will be given their letters.

Geography 10.

Important meeting of the entire class Friday in U. 7, 11:50 to 12:10. Every member must be present.

CHINA'S REVOLUTION GREATEST IN HISTORY

BISHOP BASHFORD TELLS OF GIANT STRUGGLE IN ORIENT.

SHADOWS LOOM ACROSS FUTURE

Churchman Fears Effect of Sudden Transition Upon a People So Little Advanced.

"The greatest revolution of the greatest empire in the history of the world," is the way in which Bishop A. W. Bashford in his talk at convocation yesterday characterized the struggle which is now shaking China to the foundation.

"China," he said, "is attempting to leap, in a single bound, the chasm which separates her from the high civilization and democracy of the west. She totters on the brink, but the conservatives can no more push back the struggle than they could hold the tides, or delay the coming of the dawn, for Almighty God is back of the awakening."

Describes Conditions There.

In regard to what China will do when she is once awake, the bishop said, "I can see dark lines. The general ignorance, the almost universal corruption of public officials, the lawlessness so prevalent there, the jealousies of clan against clan, and north against south, the evil effects of the social institutions of slavery and polygamy, and the pagan religion—what the effect of all these forces will be when the people find themselves really free, no one can tell; we can hardly expect the change could be accomplished entirely by peaceful methods."

In spite of the magnitude of the change, however, Bishop Bashford thinks it will be accomplished with comparatively far less bloodshed than has accompanied most revolutions, because the people have been promised a liberal constitution by 1914 and there is even a possibility of a Chinese republic. He said the people want a government like our own and that George Washington is the ideal of the Chinese patriots.

A Tribute to America.

"As I sat in a great crowd at Chufu," said the bishop, "listening to a Chinese orator stirring his people, I heard not a name of an European statesman or patriot, not a single mention of China's great dead, but again and again the name of George Washington. China has paid America the highest compliment in her persistent demand for a republic like our own."
