WHERE'S THE DIFFICULTY?

The attendance at last Saturday's track meet was almost noticeable. Outside of the band there were nearly thirty people present.

As previously explained this sad lack of interest has been responsible for the deficit in the past, and according to present indications will be responsible for a continuance of this evil.

For Saturday's outrage there could have been no plausible excuse; the weather was ideal, the team was booked to win, there were no other important affairs scheduled for that afternoon, the band was present to break the monotony between events, and the price of admission was within the reach of anyone. In fact, the price of admission to a great number of the students was nothing, for season tickets, which were so much in evidence during football season, admitted one to the track meet just as it did to football games last fall.

There was little or no excuse for the lack of attendance, which was noticeable even to the visitors; one Ames man was heard to remark that from the size of the crowd he judged that Nebraska was, after all, a "jerkwater" school.

Dismissing the justice or injustice of the visitor's remark, the fact remains that the support of the team was remarkable for its absence, and that when Minnesota comes here two weeks from last Saturday the worm should have turned and the grandstand and bleachers should groan under the load.

College Burned Out.

The main building of Morningside College at Sioux City, Iowa, was completely destroyed Monday night by fire, with the result that the school has to close indefinitely. The loss will amount to $200,000, nothing being saved except a few books which were secured by students who formed chain gangs into the burning building.

All for Nothing.

"I always was unlucky," he said with a weary sigh.

"What's the matter, now, old man?" his friend asked.

"I've spent over $500 on having my boy taught to play the fiddle, and now his hair's all comin' out."—Ex.
