

WORRY OVER LINE

LINE TO OPPOSE NEBRASKA
BOTHERS K. U. COACHES.

BACKFIELD POSITION CERTAIN

But Several Candidates Aspire for Each Place on Line and Result
Uncertain—Tackle Hardest
Position to Fill.

Who will be the Jayhawker regulars in the line? This is the question which is causing the greatest worry in the minds of the Kansas coaches. With but a little over a week before the Cornhusker contest, the mystery still remains as to who will face the husky Nebraska stonewall, as they term their line.

In the backfield the situation has narrowed down to practically two sets of men. At quarter Magill has practically clinched the position, and with Wilson as substitute no attention need be paid to that position. At halfback Coach Mosse has a squad of men who, though not exceptionally heavy, are yet fast and shifty. At one half Parker, Rhine and Martin are holding down the position, and at the other Holliday, Detweiler and Price are being used. The fullback position is divided between Steuwe, Miller and Jackson, the sensational new recruit.

Fighting for Line Positions.

In the line no man has yet shown up who will tower head and shoulders above the rest. Weidline has been playing a fine offensive and defensive game and may, by the time of the Nebraska game, step into the line light. At center the position rests between two men, Helvern and Milton. Milton is the better of the two men at defensive work, as shown by his work in the Oklahoma and Aggie games. On the other hand, Helvern leads Milton as a heady offensive player. One of these men may improve his weak playing and finally beat the other out of his position, but as the situation now stands Helvern has slightly the edge on Milton.

Lack a Good Tackle.

At guard the struggle rests between Croft, Tudor, Lynch and Hatcher. The tackles rest between Weidline, Keeling, Weidemann and Burnham. These seem the hardest positions to fill. Captain Brownlee has one of them clinched, but no regular man has yet been found for the other. Bramwell has shown up well at that position, but lacks somewhat in experience. The other alternatives are Daniels and Householder. To win in the future contest Kansas must develop some man who will be able to play this other position with some consistency.

I WANT TO BE AT THE GAME.

I'm very glad, I'm very glad,
That I'm a husky Husker
Without fear of any old Jayhawker,
Tiger, Sooner, nor of no other tribe
hereabouts.

I'm glad I had, I'm glad I had
A ticket to this said game,
Now I'm going right down to the game,
Hurry, boys, for the fun will soon begin.

CHORUS.

I want to go, I want to go,
I want to go down to that ball game,
Where the rooters yell and tear their hair,

Players play with an "I-don't-care."
Come on, let's go; come on, let's go,
Come on, let's go down to that ball game.

Come along with me, let's go and yell
U-N-I, Gee, I'm a-going to beat it
For that game, that grand old game,
For that game of old football.

I'm always glad, I'm always glad,
When on the seat I'm sitting,
Rooters with their yells the air a splitting,
And the boys going right down the field on the jump.

I'm never sad, I'm never sad,
When we have made a touchdown,
I can't help a-jumping up and down,
Look, they're going to do it all again.
