

JUNIOR DEBATE COMMITTEE.

President Dickensen Names Two Men With Promise of Another Later.

President Dickensen has appointed the following as the junior debate committee: H. W. Hess, chairman; Joe Noone. The other member will be appointed later.

The series of class debates will commence shortly, and men who contemplate trying out are requested to get in touch with their class committeemen soon.

Notice Freshmen.

Freshmen football practice today at 11 and 4. This will be the last practice before the Olympics. There's 30 points in it for the freshmen if they win their game with the sophomores.

WAITE ON SPECIAL MISSION.

To Examine Diphtheria Condition in Public Schools.

At a meeting of the city council held Monday evening Health Officer J. F. Spielman recommended that Dr. H. H. Waite of the bacteriology department be appointed to examine the diphtheria situation in the city schools.—B. M.

NOT OVER CONFIDENT

Washburn. Coaches from Oklahoma, Missouri, Ames and the Kansas Aggies all testify that no trick plays were used, and are debating over what policy of the Kansas coaches this means. It is very possible that none of the plays used in the fore part of the season may be brought out, but an entirely new lineup will be employed, and in this case Nebraska will be compelled to put every effort into the game in order to send the Jayhawkers back home defeated.

K. U. Average Weight Higher.

In the matter of comparative weights of the two teams, as an average, Mosse's men have a slight advantage. In the line this lead runs several pounds to the man, but in the backfield they have a slightly larger margin. However, the speed of the Nebraska backfield is doped to easily counterbalance this drawback and pierce the stone wall which Frank, the Minnesota '12 assistant coach, claims to have constructed for the wheat-raisers.
