DEFEAT JAYHAWKERS

FOURTH QUARTER GIVES VICTORY TO STIEHM'S MEN.

FRANK MAKES FIRST SCORE

Harmon, Swanson, Howard, Mastin Do Spectacular Work—Purdy's Knee Is Again Put Out of Commission.

With the game apparently lost by a score of 3 to 0 up to the last four minutes of play, the strong Cornhusker team regained its feet and rushed two touchdowns across the Jayhawker goal line before the final whistle. Ernie Frank won the game when he carried the ball on what appeared to be an off-tackle play from the Nebraska 30-yard line through the Jayhawker secondary defense for a touchdown. A couple of minutes after Frank had made his sensational run of 70 yards Warren Howard caught a Kansas forward pass and raced for another touchdown.

When the Cornhusker started the game it was apparent that the Nebraska team was the superior. The first period threw a scare into the Nebraska supporters, for the Kansas team clearly outplayed the Cornhuskers. The second and third quarters the Cornhuskers came back strong and held them even. Neither side scored until in the fourth quarter, when Kansas, after bucking their way to the Cornhusker 10-yard line, were halted. After a couple of trials at the Cornhusker stonewall, Weidlein, left tackle,

MISS MORRIS HERE THIS WEEK

Y. W. C. A. Secretary Guest of the Association.

Miss Eva F. Morris, Y. W. C. A. secretary for the state universities of North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota, will visit the Nebraska association this week. A tea will be given in her honor in the Y. W. C. A. rooms Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5. All University girls are invited to come and meet Miss Morris. She will preside at the Tuesday afternoon meeting at 5 o'clock.

FLETCHER HERE TODAY.

Dramatic Orator Slated to Visit University Campus.

Thomas Brooks Fletcher, the great dramatic orator, who lectures tonight at the Oliver, arrived in the city early today. Mr. Fletcher is known all over the United States as a powerful orator and one of the most ardent students of language, his vocabulary being seemingly unlimited. His lectures are profound but interesting to all. Mr. Fletcher probably will visit the University during the day.

STOUT BACK FROM MORSE BLUFF

Has Been Investigating Flood Situation With State Engineer.

Morse Bluff, where he has been looking over the flood situation with the state engineer and investigating out the issues involved in a contest between the farmers and the state and county over a bridge across the Platte river between Morse Bluff and North Bend. —Ly.

DEBATERS HARD AT WORK

Preparing for Strenuous Task with the Aid of Faculty Men.

Last week was a busy one with the debaters. With the debates against Illinois and Wisconsin before them, they are hard at work preparing themselves for the contest. Several members of the faculty who are interested in the question and debate work have already spoken before the seminary in the series of talks that have been arranged. Those who spoke last week are Prof. J. E. Le Rossignol, who spoke two evenings; Prof. G. N. Foster, who spoke Thursday evening; Dean W. G. Hastings, who spoke Friday afternoon, and Prof. Edwin Maxey, who spoke Friday evening. —I. K. F.

FARNSWORTH IN NORTHWEST.

Making Good in Work with the Harriman Lines.

Word recently received from G. Elmer Farnsworth, '04, states that he is at present in Salem, Ore. For the past six years, except for six months on the Mexico City street railways and six months drafting for the Canadian Pacific in Alberta, he has been with the Harriman lines in the Northwest. —Ly.

DISCOVER TRACES OF MOTH.

Professor Bruner Going to Omaha to Inspect Imported Plants.

Professor Bruner leaves for Omaha Saturday to inspect imported nursery and greenhouse plants. This has been deemed necessary because of the fact that egg clusters of the gypsy moth have been found on azallas and other plants coming from European countries. —J. R. W.

DEFEAT SATURDAY SPELLS CHAGRIN FOR FRESHMEN.

FIGHT GAMELY AGAINST ODDS

Big Scrap is Won by First-Year Men, But Sophs Take Everything Else Except Middleweight Boxing Match.

With but little compunction for their lack of politeness, the sophomores overwhelmed their freshmen adversaries in the Olympics Saturday by the decisive score of 95 to 55.

The sophs had the better of the argument throughout the meet, save in some instances, when the decisions were quite close. The freshmen had the satisfaction, however, of winning the supreme event of the morning, which was the "big scrap," netting them 50 points. The science of the sophs seemed to aid them materially in the clash with the freshmen, who lacked the experience of their rivals. The sophs also maintained that their policy of secrecy and their diplomatic methods played quite a part in their victory, as they "had 'em guessing" the greater part of the time.

The freshmen are to be congratulated upon the plucky fight they put up in all of the events, even if the long end of the score fell to the lot of the sophs. They were greatly handicapped on account of not being so well organized as the sophomores and because they did not have the advantage of
