

OPENINGS IN FOREIGN LANDS

Pamphlet Received at Y. M. C. A. Rooms Sets Forth Business Chances Across the Waters.

CALL FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES.

The number of openings for college graduates in foreign lands is briefly set forth in a pamphlet recently received at the Y. M. C. A. The pamphlet is issued by the Student Volunteer Movement, calling the attention of college men and women to numerous positions now open in the field over which it has charge. These positions call for men and women who have had college training or practical experience in the line of work which they expect to follow. The reason for this is that persons are wanted who can go into a community and become leaders in all phases of life.

According to the last report there are about 440 positions open to men and some over 200 for women. These include a great diversity of talent. To men the field is especially large, including engineers, teachers, physical directors, architects, builders, physical clans, business managers, practical farmers, dentists, preachers, etc. To women the field is more limited, but covers quite a variety of positions as physicians, nurses, kindergartners, teachers, physical directors, evangelists, stenographers, superintendents, etc. These opportunities are the results of the missionary movement of the Y. M. C. A. and the different churches of this country.—I. K. F.

FEEL GOOD OVER LIMITED HOPS

Committee of Engineering Hop Satisfied With Efforts to Limit Dance to Engineers.

With the validated tickets for the Engineering Hop, which is to be held tonight disposed of, and no more on the market, the committee are congratulating themselves on the arrangements for a limited hop, "as advertised." Only eighty-seven are to be admitted to the hall, and strict guard will be kept upon all the back stairs for "sneakers."

Chairman Wirt, of the committee, desires the co-operation of all holding tickets in order that the dance may be run exactly on time. "Every one should be there by 8:30 ready for the grand march, which will start promptly at 8:45. The doors will be closed during the march, and those arriving late will be required to wait outside until its completion."

The programs, bearing the insignia of the Engineering Society on a white cover, are of a rich design. Sam Carrier is Master of Ceremonies.—L.

GOOD SPIRIT RUNS HIGH

Cheers For Frank

The calling on Ernie Frank to respond to the toast, "Review of the Season," was a signal for an ovation which was an indication of the esteem in which the student body holds the Cornhusker's doubtly little captain.

Colonel A. L. Bixby, familiarly known as Bix, told several humorous stories, recounted some of the trials of his early days and ended by reading a poem written several years ago at the occasion of the annual contest between Nebraska and Minnesota.

"Football As a Training" was the subject of a toast responded to by "Jim" Harvey, an ex-varsity captain. He dwelt upon the value that one gets from playing the game, both from the physical and mental standpoint, and recommended it as a good training ground for future development.

Dr. E. S. Cutter, in his remarks on the subject of "Nebraska Spirit," made an appeal to Nebraska students to place their alma mater at the top of their affections. He pleaded for the subjugation of class and fraternity interests to the interest of the whole University, and pointed out that the reward in the end would be a more unified and harmonious student body, and hence a better and more genuine Nebraska spirit.

Tribute to Andrews.

Chancellor Avery proved a gracious victim to the demands of the students and gave a short talk that went home. He said that Nebraska enthusiasm was not of the external kind, but more of that type that is lodged within the hearts of the students. He paid a fitting tribute to Chancellor Emeritus Benjamin E. Andrews, by relating an incident that showed the affection which the former chancellor bore toward Nebraska students. Later on in the evening, at the suggestion of Ernie Frank, the Chancellor was authorized by the assembly to send Dr. Andrews a telegram expressing the good sentiments of the Nebraska student body.

Before the crowd adjourned, short talks were given by Captain-Elect Purdy and members of the team, including Harman, Howard, Allan, Swanson, Towle, Mastin, "Pip" Cook and Owen Frank.—McC.
