ALL FOUR CLASSES BLOSSOM OUT IN FLASHY TOQUES OF

Desire for Distinctive Apparel Hits Campus All at Once-Supply of Freshman Toques Exhausted

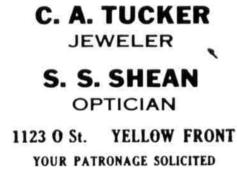

A peculiar malady seems to have started its ravages on the campus this winter. So far the victims are confined to the masculine sex, but it is not at all unlikely that the malefactor will be less partial in the future. The chief symptom of a person afflicted with this disease is an inordinate passion for distinctive attire.

The said microbe first attacked the fertile minds of certain upperclassmen and saturated them with the idea that the Freshmen should wear green caps. The Freshmen themselves seem to have felt a touch of the malady.

rious organizations have succumbed to the microscopic "bug." As a result, a birds-eye view of the campus walks between classes resembles a scotchplaid, the motley array of colors be ing furnished chiefly by the headgear of the male members of the various the minds of the upperclassmen, with the result that the plan to have the first year students wear caps grew and developed into one of larger proportions. In fact the committee on cops outdid itself and lavishly ordered headgear for the entire school (gentlemen only). These caps are not caps, but toques, colored with the colors of the school, red, white, and green (for the freshmen. The Seniors are to have red toques with white tassels and trimmings. These required more time and did not arrive with the others. They are expected in today. Junior toques are to be white, with no ornamentation in the way of gaudy coloring. For the Sopohomores red toques will be available. Freshmen wear the conventioual green toques, with a white tassel. These caps are on sale at Armstrong's and the sale during the rush hours ject of the Single Tax was delivered by Judge Cornish yesterday morning before Professor Virtue's class in Public Finance. The judge is an ardent advocate of this method of taxation reform, and his talk aroused much discussion among the class members.

We want to sell every garment in the house so that we will not have to carry a single one into our new store.

Professor R. J. Pool will give the evening's address before the Forest Club tonight. His topic is "Forest Botany," After the address there will be a business meeting and an election of officers. This is to be one of the big meetings of the year, so it is asked that all the members be there.

They are always the best
