"How's that?" asked the Grouch.

"They have reduced the rate on prunes," replied the Old Fogey.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Oregon.—The faculty is considering a radical revision of the college calendar. They are thinking of dividing the school year into four semesters, any three of which the students may attend, and one of which a member of the faculty may take for a vacation. They are also proposing to open and close the school year one month earlier than at present, so as to make the summer vacation extend from May 15 to August 15.

"Those Ensign Cabs"

They watch and wait for its coming
As it silently speeds to its call.
The sorority fair maids are all humming
At the pleasure in store for them all.
For the carriage ride to the hop at night
Is a token of a jolly good fellow,
The Ensign cab is her delight,
As it rides like a feather pillow
Now well know all the scholars
The prompt attention they receive
It don't take a million dollars
To attend a ball in comfort and ease.
