AMES MEETS DEFEAT

AGGIES CAN NOT BREAK UP MAGNIFICENT MACHINE WORK OF STIEHM'S MEN.

PLAY APPROACHES FOOTBALL

Not Much Individual Starring on Either Team But Much Concentrated Effort on Part of All.

In a game marked for its rough playing and lack of snap and ginger Coach Stiehm's colts ran away from the Ames aggregation by the score of 28 to 9. The Nebraska men appeared to have things their own way and exercised complete control over the movements of the ball. The only fault seemed to lie in the fact that they laid down on the job at times. The Iowa cyclones failed to exhibit any world beating features and in the last half of the game they failed to toss a basket. The Ames center played an excellent game. Busby at left guard did fast work. The two centers were evenly matched and it kept Stryker hustling to hold his own. Every one of the Nebraska five played exceedingly good ball and when the ball was rushed down the floor a basket was unusually the result. Haskell for the Cornhuskers threw several beautiful goals and had his guard up in the air by his fast playing.

Rather loose refereeing was criticized by the Nebraska rooters, who thought that the Cornhuskers were receiving the short end. The Ames men had a habit of holding most of the time and for some reason these fouls were not called.

In the second half Myers was substituted for Stryker. Howard for Hawkins and L. Meier for Haskell. All did creditable work, especially Myers.

The score by halves:

First half, Nebraska 12, Ames 6.

Second half, Nebraska 16, Ames 0.

Field Goal—Underwood 4, Haskell 1, Stryker 1, Hawkins 1, Carrier 2, Meier 3, Busby 1, Tfund 1, Hansel 1.

Free Throws—Busby 2.

Lineup:

Busbyrf.....	Underwood
Rogerlf.....	Haskell
Tfundc.....	Stryker

"FRATORITY" LATEST K. U. ORGANIZATION

Married Students May Form Greek Letter Society of Their Own.

K. U. may have a "fratority." If the movement that has been begun by several of the married students of the University is successful it will result in the establishment of one of these latest forms of the college fraternal organization.

A "fratority" is an organization modeled after the present fraternity and sorority, but composed of married students. Some confine their membership to couples who are both in school, but in some instances it is necessary for only one to be enrolled. In places where fratorities have been established they have met with great success and those behind the scheme here have great expectations.

Those who have combined the roles of students and benedict say that the renting of an entire house is too great a strain upon the finances. In a fratority, they say, the cost of living is greatly reduced and many other advantages are gained.

There are now in the University a considerable number of married students who would be eligible for the new organization. All the details of the plan have not yet been worked out, but they include a plan to let the women prepare the meals and do the housework in rotation, thus dividing the labor and giving them more time for outside affairs.

It is understood that those interested in the plan are now looking for a suitable location and that the project will be launched before many weeks.—Daily Kansan.

PROFESSOR STUFF DEPLORES DRINKING AMONG CO-EDS

In Class Lecture Tells Girls That Lower Forms of Enjoyment Are On the Increase.

"The time is coming when a young woman prominent in our University society will be carried home under the influence of liquor."

Such was the statement of Prof. F. A. Stuff before a class composed largely of girls yesterday morning. He previously denounced the increase of drinking among students and said that the tendency of the times was to stoop to the lower and more sensual types of entertainments.

"Our only salvation lies in the noble-minded women of the schools," he said. In no sense does he blame the present conditions on women, but asserts that they have it in their power to uplift and improve the general tone of University society.

MYSTERY OF WHITE SLEIGH SOLVED BY OWNER HIMSELF

Unfortunate Owner of the Vehicle Thought He Had Loaned It To a Man To Take His Wife Riding.

One of his narrowest escapes from experiencing a fatal accident came to one of the editors of the Daily Nebraskan yesterday when the owner of the much advertised white cutter appeared on the scene with a demand for reparation of his hurt dignity. After much persuasion, he was soothed down and the true story of the incident came out.

The cutter was borrowed last Tuesday by a young man whose name the owner did not give, to take his wife for a ride. At least that was the reason he gave. This was just before noon and the well known incident happened at five minutes past twelve. The sleigh was returned later in the afternoon.

The man who owns the sleigh did not especially care about the borrowing of the vehicle but he does not like to have to club his way through the crowds which now fill R street going east from the University. He is not in the business of selling soap, books or any other article of commerce and the notoriety does not benefit him in the least although he appreciates the kind attentions of the university student body.

Although it would have been a juicy bit for the reporters ravenous appetite for real news, by no possible means could the name of the mysterious stranger who borrowed the rig be obtained.

CADETS MAY FIGHT IN MEXICO

Even Commandant Bowman May Be Called If Intervention Is Necessary.

Should the trouble in Mexico reach such a point as to warrant intervention by the United States, Commandant Bowman says that a regiment might be made up and the opportunity to enlist offered to University cadets. The War Department could not call into service the cadets as a regiment, but the cadets would have the opportunity to enlist if they wished to do so. Commandant Bowman would likely be called back to his regiment in case that trouble of a serious nature came up.

BILL GOES TO SENATE

CAMPUS EXTENSION RECEIVES APPROVAL OF HOUSE BY VOTE OF 76 TO 10.

REMOVALISTS STILL IN FIELD

Upper House May Amend Bill To Remove University To Farm and Send It Back To Lower House.

The third reading was held Friday afternoon on the bill for University campus extension with one-half mill tax which will bring about $435,000 every two years, and was passed by a vote of 76 to 10. The bill now goes to the senate where it will probably be discussed some time next week.

It is possible that the Senate will try to bring up removal again, as many of the Senate are in favor of that side of the question, although many senators now realize that there is little popular sentiment for removal. It is possible that the senate will amend the bill to provide for removal instead of extension. If this is done the bill will have to return to the house for revote, but it is very doubtful that the house would pass such an amendment. If a deadlock results the question will be settled by a committee from both houses.

DR. SHERMAN CHOOSES PLAY

American Book Company Requested Dr. Sherman To Select and Edit Manuscript Plays.

Dr. Sherman was requested some time ago, by the editors of the American Book Company, to select some of Phillip Massinger's plays that be considered most worth while and edit them for the company. The book, containing four of Massinger's plays, which appeared a few weeks ago, is a result of his work. The introduction by Dr. Sherman may be considered the best part of the book, as it is exceptionally strong and presented in a powerful manner.

NEW MODELS FOR GEOLOGISTS

New Shipment Received From Wards.—Models Work of Art.

A comparatively new departure in the teaching of geology is shown by the recent shipment of models from Wards Natural Science Co. The Department of Geology has received a cabinet of models from Wards Natural Science Co. of Rochester, N. Y., which illustrates the various types of geological formation. The models are very pretty with dainty shades of coloring to show the different strata of rock. One piece is a coral reef with the ocean surrounding. Below each model is a description of the whole affair.
