Two models of the spoon bill Dinosaur and a model of an early form of the mastodon are to be placed on exhibition at the museum this week. This is the beginning of a corner of the museum to be devoted to a "Child's Museum."

The model of an early form of a mastodon and two models of tracodon, the spoon-bill Dinosaur have just been received at the museum. They will be placed on exhibition this week as a part of a "Child's Museum." This will be a corner of the museum devoted to things of interest to the large number of school children who visit from the Lincoln and the surrounding towns.

Tracodon is the Dinosaur (terrible animal) which has attracted so much attention of late. It was found in a mummified condition with the wrinkles of the skin, the scales, and the ornamentations perfectly preserved. This animal was just the kind of brute that would certainly set the cold chills down a person's back even if seen from quite a distance.
