Tuckerman Speaks On Present-Day Ideals of Efficient Service

Convocation yesterday was in charge of the engineers. It was somewhat late in starting, due to the extra inning required to decide the second baseball game. However, the "Old German Band," which was out in full costume, improved the time by giving a concert in front of Memorial Hall.

Dean Stout presided. Prof. Tuckerman gave a talk on "Engineering Ideals," in which he spoke of the present day ideal of honest efficient service for the money rendered, and the further ideal of public service which is just coming to be recognized.

The engineering quartet sang several songs which were well received. L. R. Owen recited the famous poem composed by Prof. Morse. T. I. Wirt, on behalf of Sigma Tau, presented the college with a fine picture of General Dudley who gave the first instruction in engineering at this university. Dean Stout, in his speech of acceptance, gave his recollections of General Dudley. The general, a veteran of the Civil war, at that time a lieutenant, was the first commandant at the University.

Weather of Past Few Days Sends Tennis Hope High

Although the weather has been very pleasant lately, no work has been done on the tennis courts. However it is expected that they will be fixed up soon. The new tennis club has been steadily increasing its membership, and will be ready to use the courts in an organized manner. Entirely new nets will be used.

Plans will be made later for a tournament, the winners to form the team. Many private courts are now being put in commission and students are already wearing white duck trousers, and "serving" the balls to the fair coeds.

State Farm and University Cadets Form Brigade Parade

The annual brigade parade of the State Farm and University cadets will occur next Monday evening, preceding the Workizer "compet." First call will be at 4:05, and assembly at 4:15. All 4 o'clock classes will be excused on Monday afternoon.

The parade will be strictly formal and in addition to the officers the reviewing stand will hold Governor Morehead and Chancellor Avery. Next to competive drill this is the big military event of the year and it is hoped that the faculty and student body will turn out in large enough numbers to lend a gala effect to the scene. The commandant of the student cadets has issued special and general invitation to all university girls to witness the maneuvers.
