

CONTEMPORARY CO-EDS

The girls at Ohio Wesleyan, on their own initiative, have abolished their ten sororities. It was decided that they did not represent the interests of the girls and caused too much rushing rivalry.

Of the 340 coeds at Illinois State University, only one is said to have perfect feet. Poor shoes are blamed for the blemishes of the others.

Hereafter the students at Vassar college will be placed on their honor regarding examinations, trips out of town, attending social functions and the governing of their movements, which have in the past been regulated by the watchful eyes of the officials.

Women students of Oregon University received samples of gold tipped cigarettes from large eastern cigarette manufacturers.

A co-ed won the debate at Oklahoma and will represent the school in the coming debate against Colorado.

Drake University women students admit that the young women have a great influence over the young man's conduct, but they assume no liability for his conduct.

A new sorority has been organized at Syracuse called "Eta Beta Nuthun." Its members are fifteen co-eds who discovered that they were getting too fat. Its purposes is to discuss reducing, help reduce and to reduce.

Girls at Wellesley College have formed a club the object of which is to prevent a member from marrying until at least three years after graduation and then only to a man with an income of $5,000 or more. If a member marries a poor man before the time is up she will be automatically expelled from the club.

Arrangements are being completed whereby the weekly supplement of the Chicago Evening Post will be written alternately by women students of Chicago university and Northwestern University. This will give the women students a chance to show their literary ability as well as an opportunity to express their opinion on current topics.

Nearly eighty women students of Wisconsin have taken to playing outdoor baseball since the opening of the week Margaret H. F. Douber is in charge of this department.

Every freshman girl of Kansas University must be able to swim across the pool before freshman gym credit will be given.

Patronize Our Advertisers.

It was a beautiful night at sea. The solitary man, sitting close to the edge of the deck was drinking in the beauty of the scene when the steward's voice was heard: "Well, this is a fine night, sir. Are you waiting for the moon to come up?"

"Oh, Lod," exclaimed the young man. "Has that got to come up, too!"

Patronize Our Advertisers.

AH, GO 'LONG

Shocking.

Bazenly one by one, with their baskets laden with groceries,
Stride the haughty professors from the Basket Stores on the side streets

Daily Cub—What shall I head this story about two peroxide blondes who threw a fit at the game Saturday?

Editor—Why, you poor boob, just say "The bleachers went wild."—Minnesota Minne-ha-ha.

Awed Freshie (to Senior)—And do you mean to say that you live within your allowance?

Senior—I couldn't live without it.—Punch Bowl.

Fred—Does Miss Beauty get much attention?

Dick—Yes, even her picture flatters her.—Yale Record.

Polly—"What material is a Phi Beta Kappa key made of?"

SI—"Bone, usually."—California Pelican.

Ned—I understand that Harry cleaned up on Dick.

Fred—Yes, he hit him with a bar of soap.—Siren.

"What's worse than proposing and not being accepted?"

"Why, preparing a refusal and not being asked"—Record.

Patronize Our Advertisers.

Student (at the Golden Gate)—Information bureau?

St. Peter—Even so.

Stude—Any chapel services here?

S. P.—No.

Stude—Any professors that know more than the pupils?

S. P.—No.

Stude—And registrars, book agents or literary monthlies?

S. P.—No.

Stude—This surely must be heaven. I guess I'll come in.—Four Leaf Clover.

The freshman approached the post-office stamp window.

"How much postage will this require?" he asked. "It is one of my manuscripts."

"Two cents an ounce," smiled the clerk; "that's first-class matter."

"Oh, thank you!"—Punch Bowl.

Patronize Our Advertisers.

"Nothing makes me soar," said the amateur aviator wearily as his nineteenth attempt failed to get the machine off the ground.—Pelican.

An Opportunist.

Settlement Worker—Jimmy, do you think you can use the word "disguise" in a sentence?

James—Yes'm. Dis guy's got me marbles!—Chaparral.

"My father and I know everything in the world," said a small boy to his companion.

"All right," said the latter. "Where's Asia?"

It was a stiff question, but the little fellow answered coolly: "That is one of the questions my father knows."

Patronize Our Advertisers.

DAVIDSON MILLINERY

1332 O St.

Special Attention Paid to University Girls . . .

THE LINCOLN BOOK STORE

Exclusive agents for Junior Caps and Gowns
Order as early as convenient
1126 O

GIRLS

Bring your friends to the Lincoln Candy Kitchen.
Corner 14th and O

Ice Creams and Ices—Any Flavor

WE would be pleased to show our samples of printing or engraved invitations, cards and announcements. Everything new.

Boyd Printing Co.

125 No. 12th St.

THE HAUCK STUDIO

Portrait Photographer

1216 O Street

Lincoln, Nebraska