DENTS HOLD HIGH RANK

ONE OF FIVE DENTAL SCHOOLS
IN COUNTRY RANKING 100 PER CENT.

MANY STUDENTS ENROLLED

Recently Installed Expensive and
Down-to-Date Equipment Makes Great Improvement.

The Lincoln Dental College, which has for the past ten years been associated with the University of Nebraska, can now boast of being the most expensively equipped college in its clinic department, per cost of chair and fixtures, in the United States. There are only four other dental schools in the United States which have a one hundred per cent rating with the National Association of Dental Examiners. Furthermore, out of forty-six colleges of dentistry there are fifty still smaller in accommodations.

The infirmary or clinic department is fitted with the latest dental operating chairs, each with glass fountain spittoon, compressed air, gas, and electricity for light, gold annealer and electric dental engine. A regular surgery hospital hot water sterilizer has been installed in the infirmary and all instruments are sterilized following each operation. The water for washing can be turned on with the foot so as not to contaminate the operator's hands. Each student has a white enameled iron surgical hospital operating table.

The dental prosthetic laboratory is fitted up with gas, compressed air, electricity for the lathes, and all conveniences. Each student will find for his use an individual workbench of white maple, natural finish, on iron legs. The technic section will accommodate 112 students, each with private locker under his table large enough to hold all instruments used in the laboratory.

In connection with these two laboratories will be found the office rooms of the college and one small recitation room. Most of the lectures are given in the buildings at the University campus, where the dental students use at various hours during the week six different lecture rooms. The dental students also use nine different laboratories on the campus, distributed in three different buildings.

The total attendance of the college this semester is fifty-seven, several more than last fall, but still not as many as surely will register next year after the unusual privilege of the dental school is known. A three-year course in the dental department of the University will now qualify one for a D.D.S.

Professor Bengston is now working on an industrial text for the Macmillan company on the subject "Wheat." He will present the complete story of wheat from the seed to the flour and flour products. This work is designed for eighth grade students and is part of a series edited by Dr. Condra.

HEAR YE, FRESHMEN

It is the custom at the University of Nebraska that each and every member of the freshman class wear a green cap. The purpose of this decree of custom is to enable the members of the first-year class to more easily become acquainted, and to recognize each other in the Olympic fight by acquaintance rather than by markings. Such a whim of fashion develops a certain common familiarity among the members of the class, which will generate a class spirit more lasting and binding than could be produced by the slower and less sure method of casual meeting. The proper way for each freshman to display class and school spirit is to betake himself to the Armstrong haberdashery forthwith and there secure the verdant top-piece that will become him with all necessary grace at 50 cents the haberdash.

BE ON GUARD TOMORROW

Girls' Club Will Observe "Tag Day"—
Six Hundred Ready.

"Tag Day" for the University Girls' Club is scheduled for Wednesday and bids well to be a lively day for all coeds. Six hundred tags are ready, and it is hoped that the largest membership in the history of the club will be gleaned from the tag system.

The purpose of this association is:

- To offer an opportunity for a friendly, helpful fellowship among the women of the school.
- To develop a feeling of mutual responsibility and a high regard for both liberty and order.
- To be a medium by which the social standard of the University may be made and kept high.
- To foster the spirit of unity and loyalty to the University of Nebraska.
- To bring before its members subjects that are of special interest and importance to college women.

The annual dues are 35 cents, of which 25 cents shall go to the establishment of a permanent fund for the care of sick women students and for assisting those who are making their own way through school. Miss Graham, Dean of Women, has charge of this fund, and applications for it should be made to her. Every faculty woman and University girl should come with their 35 cents Wednesday and be prepared to become a live member of the Girls' Club. Every one will have an opportunity to buy a tag.

The dedication at the University of Chicago of the new grandstand on Marshall Field, the athletic grounds of the university, will probably take place on October 4, at the opening football game of the season, that between Chicago and Indiana University. Prof. A. A. Stagg, director of the department of physical culture, and Prof. Gilbert A. Bliss of the department of mathematics, representing the alumni of the university, have general charge of the plans, which are expected to draw a remarkable attendance of the friends and graduates of the institution. One of the most attractive parts of the proposed program is a parade by former "C" men of the university; and an illumination at night of the new grandstand and concrete wall surrounding the field is also a possible feature of the celebration.

FORESTERS MEET TONIGHT

First Conclave of Year—Professor Gilmore to Speak.

Prof. W. R. Gilmore of the Historical Society will give a lecture on "Forest Utilization by the Aborigines of Nebraska" to the Forest Club at 7:30 p. m. in room 2 of Nebraska Hall on Tuesday, September 30. The public is invited to this as well as to all meetings of the Forest Club, held on alternate Tuesdays.

UNIVERSITY MUSICIANS PLAY AT AK-SAR-BEN

Band Goes to Omaha—Five New Men
Added—Tryout Will Be Held Friday.

The activities of the cadet band begin this week, when thirty men go to Omaha to take part in the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival. The men will leave Lincoln Wednesday afternoon, march in the parade that night, and return for class work the next day.

The class of music displayed by the University Band has made it a favorite with the crowds who travel to the metropolis during this fall carnival, and it is easily ranked among the foremost of the bands participating.

As the result of a second tryout the names of five men have been added to the band roll. The new musicians are F. L. Strieter, W. A. Schumacher, Ralph Tyson, L. F. Waldman, and C. E. Trowbridge.

Another tryout will be held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock for those who wish to be given another chance and for men who have not yet tried.

According to press reports a noiseless soup spoon has been added to the long list of useful inventions. We nevertheless doubt that they ever will be able to produce silent celery.

Mr. A. H. Meyer of the Federal Soil Survey is to office with Dr. Condra in the soil survey department during the fall and winter while he is editing the county soil survey reports.

Professor Condra will leave soon for Scotts Bluff county to finish taking moving pictures of the beet sugar industry.

Verna Stahl, '11, of Liberty, Neb., was a week-end visitor at the Achoth house.

1917 WILL RALLY AT 11:00

OLYMPICS WILL BE THE TOPIC
OF MANY SHORT SPICY TALKS
BY LEADERS.

NECESSARY TO ATTEND

Important Subjects to Every First-
Year Man—Watch for Signs on Campus and Join Gang.

The first meeting of the year for the freshman is to be held this morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial Hall. The occasion will be the annual freshman convocation and will be devoted to initiating the male members, who are the only ones admitted, into the spirit of Nebraska through addresses by well-known members of the faculty and representative members of the senior class. The opening address will be made by the Chancellor; Guy Reed will talk on athletics, and after several speeches by leaders in the senior class Dr. Condra will end the program with a forceful explanation of what is required of a student to make school life and individual effort in college a success. The talks will all be by men whose experience will be valuable to those who expect to be factors in the student life of the school.

The plans of the coming Olympics will be explained to the first-year men at the convocation. The Olympics are to be held on Saturday, October 11, and the program for the eventful morning has been definitely arranged. The entire schedule of events is expected to last an hour and a half. To allow for the tardiness of late sleepers, the opening event will be the wrestling matches to interest the early arrivals. The second scrap will be between a certain chosen number of men from each class over a medicine ball attached to the top of a pole some twenty feet high, the purpose of each side being to get the ball from the pole and carry it over a designated goal line. Then will follow the boxing matches, during which the participants in the medicine ball fight will be allowed time to prepare for the free-for-all.

The free-for-all, in which every member whose personal cowardice does not prevent will be engaged, is the climax of class rivalry. The plan of action is to string a number of the traditional cowbells, which for years have been the bone of contention between the lower classes, and which if tradition holds sway and the number of contestants does not prevent, will be thirteen in number, will be strung across the center of the field with a short rope attached to the ring of each. The two classes will be marked individually by having their faces painted, lined up on either side of the field, and at a given signal will rush to the bells head-on. The class having the most bells over the opposing line after a specified time will be the victors and may celebrate as their blood-thirsty hearts desire.

The first class elections are to be held a week from today, and not until that time will the organizers of the two classes be chosen. The class
