ated at the pivot position. Purdy, Rutherford, Howard and Coffee came through with their usual gilt edge football. But the strongest back field in the world can't play football when the line leaks like a dollar silk umbrella in a hail storm.

The scrimmage yesterday was the last heavy one before the Washburn game. "Jumbo" may put his athletes through a light scrimmage today, probably on the University field. Friday afternoon the squad will take a workout and run signals. No one has any idea as to how the team will line up against Washburn. And more than that, no one will know until the whistle blows for the kickoff.

Washburn Reported Strong.

Last year Washburn bested both Kansas and Denver Universities. This year the coach says that the Congressional team is even better. Six men of last year's winning team are holding down their places and the remaining five holes have been filled with strong players. Washburn is confident of victory. It is rumored that a special train of football enthusiasts will be run up to support their team. It begins to look like old Nebraska will have to hustle to hold her own. It is imperative that the student body turn out en masse to root for the wearers of the Scarlet and Cream. The Cornhusker team is up against a stiff proposition and must have all the help the students are capable of giving them.

The class in fancy dancing under Miss Park, the new physical education instructor, began work yesterday afternoon with about thirty girls enrolled. Other gymnasium classes will not meet for regular classes until after next week.

Indignant Band Goes On Strike When Told of New Conference Ruling

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 2.—The Gopher band has struck, mutinied, become insurgent. As a result of the new ruling which was passed at the Big Nine Conference meeting in Chicago last June, the Board of Athletic Control of the university is now prevented from sending the band on football trips, and when the news was made generally known to the band men at first practice Wednesday night there was general indignation, not to say anger among the band members. The new ruling which was passed at the conference meeting limits the number of men who may be sent on any trip to no other university to thirty men, and this number is to be confined strictly to eligible players, coaches, trainers and a manager. Consequently the band men are up in arms.

It has been the custom for a number of years for the Board of Athletic Control to send the band along with the football team on its most important trip to another university, but with the present ruling in force this will be impossible. The news first became generally known Wednesday evening at the first regular band practice of the year. Indignation ran high and during their meeting the band men decided that after the South Dakota game on Saturday they would not appear on Northrop field to play for football games this season. As they had already agreed to play for the South Dakota game before the action of the Conference meeting became known, the band will appear on the field tomorrow afternoon as usual sixty strong.

In all probability it will be the last appearance of the band at games this season.
