"WE MUST BEAT MINNESOTA."

We're off. With the rally yesterday morning Nebraska spirit awoke from its lethargy and has become a mighty, potential force. The rally was a success from every standpoint, considering that the season has but scarcely begun, and judging from all former early-season rallies. And the spirit of the rally turned naturally to the big problem which it—Nebraska spirit—must solve in the next two weeks. Minnesota! Minnesota! Minnesota. The band played it, the rooters thought it as they yelled and sang, and every speaker dwelt upon that subject. If there is a single student on the campus who is unacquainted with the fact that we meet our annual rival and superior on the 18th, that the chances for a Nebraska victory are worth banking on, let him or her "get wise" very suddenly. Within the next two weeks Nebraska spirit is to be rejuvenated, and all because Nebraska spirit is the thing which will in the end "Beat Minnesota."

THE BAND.

The cadet band is deserving of every bit of praise which can be shifted its way. This year it has shown itself to be a strictly earnest musical organization, and the quality of work which it has been furnishing—if music may be called a species of work—exceeds that of former years in many ways. Last year a four-year contract was incorporated into the articles which prospective band men were asked to look over, and a start was made toward making the band a regular collection of skilled players, rather than a shifting number of men with only two years' practice to their credit. The result of this action is seemingly apparent in the present band. At the rally they warmed the hearts of those present by their playing, and comments of pleasure were heard on every side. They have turned out to several rallies. They are drilling nightly, and promising to do all in their power to make the coming rallies successful. And to the band, its officers, and Director Cornell will be due much of the credit for this success, when it perches on the goal posts at THE game, and the OTHER games.

To Revive Old Form of Class Rush.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—(Special.) The good old days when crutches and wheel-chairs were common and the ambulance got a hot box carrying off the injured from the lower campus at the annual class rush are to be revived. This information has been gotten straight from two or three who are on the inside of such matters.

The classes will form as usual on Thursday afternoon, the sophomores in front of the Library and the freshmen inside of the gymnasium. After a few short speeches and a prayer the freshmen, dobed with the usual black paint, will sally forth where it is expected they will be swept off their feet and rushed to the lake. It is promised that this year no freshman will escape a bath in the lake. Medical excuses will not be observed and there will be no limit to what may be done in the hazing line.

It has been proposed to shave every freshman's head partly. The sophomores can, of course, do this, as they have an organization which it would be impossible for the freshmen to achieve. Although the freshmen slightly outnumber their elders, it must be remembered that the sophs have been through the rush before and "know the ropes."

After the rush it is proposed to take the first-year men over the campus and there indulge them in a regular old-fashion hazing orgy. They will be made to sing, bark, have peanut races, and in fact go through all the old familiar stunts which characterized our life some years ago.

DON'T WAIT

You fellows that will be looking for some particular style and some particular color in a Mackinaw Coat. When it does get cold there'll be lots of other fellows up to the same thing ---but you'll find the "Early Bird" wearing the coat you wanted.

And while talking, we'll say that we have the snappiest, newest, most different line of Mackinaws ever shown in this town. Better at least look now.
