ASPIRING THESPIANS SHOW SKILL ON OCTOBER 23

First Opportunity Offered This Year for Competitive Election to Dramatic Club.

The Dramatic Club is now making preparations for the annual competition of aspiring Thespians. The club at a recent meeting decided to hold them on Thursday evening, October 23, at the Temple theater. In order for one to appear before the committee they must register next Tuesday and Thursday at 11 o'clock in room 106 University Hall.

At the present writing two plays,
"The Devil's Disciple," and "The Servant in the House," are in rehearsals, and both of which will be produced this semester. These notably strong plays will give a fair idea of the character of the plays that will be presented during the year.

Curtines from the following plays are a few suggestions for tryouts: Everywoman, Mice and Men, The Man of the Hour, Christopher Junior, Miss Civilization, She Stoops to Conquer, The Littlest Girl, Merchant of Venice, act 2, scene 2; When We Were Twenty-one, The Romancers, Barbara Fritchie, The Hypocrite, The Stubbornness of Geraldine, Candida, Mosieur Beaucaire, The Prisoner of Zenda, The Doll's House by Ibsen, The Man of Destiny, The Pillars of Society, Farces by W. D. Howells, The Little Minister, or plays from Pinero, Shaw, Kennedy, Fitch; The Amazons, Trowlanney of the Wells, Beau Brummel, Sister Beatrice, The Blue Bird, The Importance of Being Earnest, The Melting Pot, The Crisis, The Christian,
The Man From Home.

Most of these plays may be obtained from the University and City libraries, and from the department of elocution.

Helen Blish, Marie Hodge and Anna McCague of Omaha, Lucy Dill of Grand Island, Willa Spier of St. Joseph, Mo., spent the week end at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

USHERS HOLD ENVIABLE POSITIONS AT GAMES

However, the Athletic Department Can Use a Few More for Saturday's Big Game.

When Horace Greeley said, "Young man, go west," he must have intended to add, "And stop in Nebraska," for a great opportunity has been offered to the young fellows here on the campus. Any fellow who doesn't want to pay $4 to see the Minnesota and Iowa games may get out of it by coming around to the "Rag" office this afternoon or Thursday between the hours of 4 and 6 and handing his name to Chalmers Gellatly. The purpose of this is to allow about twenty more fellows the privilege of ushering at these two games. One hundred and seven ushers will be required, and all but about twenty have signified their desire to aid the bewildered these two days. Any one handling in his name will be permitted to usher at both games, so once is all that he will have to apply. Those chosen are expected to wear drill suits.

The reason for having such a large number of ushers is to avoid all possible confusion. The athletic board wants to do away with a repetition of the scenes at the Michigan game two years ago. Several young fellows will be stationed at the gate to tell the people which side of the field they belong.
At each aisle a fellow will be on duty to prevent any one getting in the wrong "pew," and then there will be several ushers at each section to quickly dispose of the crowd.

NOT ALL OF THEM, EITHER!

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, not content with having Sam White, the old Princeton athlete, on Nebraska field every day helping Jumbo Stiehm coach his charges, have recruited all of their old football stars from various parts of the state to help round the Cornhuskers into form for their big games of the season which begin next week.
Sylvester Shonka, Jack Westover, Fred Hunter, Leroy Temple, Bill Johnson, "Bones" Rathbone, "Rabbit" Chauner, and Jim Harvey are among those who have signified their intention of gathering on Nebraska Field soon to help Jumbo Stiehm whip his allstars into shape. Daily Kansan.

The Cafeteria of the Y. M. C. A.

This student Cafeteria has for its object the furnishing of the best grade of food to students. This is the very first consideration. There are other grades which look just as well and taste just as good but do not have the same food value. Our prices are made according to the first cost of the food plus the cost of preparation, not according to any restaurant prices down town.
