LONG LIST OF DEFEATS

GOPHERS HAVE WON MAJORITY OF GAMES IN LAST TWELVE YEARS.

1902 THE ONE BRIGHT SPOT

Short History of Minnesota Games and Men Who Coached Them—With Scores.

Tomorrow Nebraska will meet a foe which has been one of her greatest gridiron enemies throughout her football history. Only once in the past thirteen years have the Cornhuskers defeated the Gophers. In 1902 Nebraska defeated Minnesota on her home territory, and since then has not repeated the victory. In 1908 Nebraska held Minnesota to a tie score of 0 to 0 on her own grounds. Aside from these two victories the Gophers have each year taken the scalps of the Cornhuskers who put up a superhuman fight although playing against heavy odds.

In 1901 Nebraska sent a band and some two hundred rooters to Minneapolis with her team. The eventful victory in 1902 was not due to any remarkable spirit on the part of Nebraska. Not over two hundred rooters collected at the station to see the team off, and only twenty-five of this number managed to find enough courage to even attempt a sendoff. Coach Booth was the spirit of the team. For the six years previous to this victory, with a minimum of men from whom to select Coach Booth had turned out teams that made a wonderful showing.

Nebraska did not play Minnesota in 1903. In 1904 the Cornhuskers, under the leadership of Captain Benedict, again met the Gophers at Minneapolis. A band of 3,000 Gopher students met the Nebraskans at the train and escorted them to their headquarters. Although Nebraska was outplayed man for man, and severely handicapped, she held the northerners to a score of 12 to 16.

Every effort was put forth in 1905, and the motto, "We must beat Minnesota," appealed to the spirit of the school. Coach Booth, together with Captain Borg, attempted to lead the men to Minneapolis for a second victory, but the Gophers proved overwhelmingly strong and defeated the visitors 35 to 0.

In 1906 the Cornhuskers, under Captain Macon, were again defeated by a score of 43 to 0. In 1907 Coach Cole and his pupils, with Captain Wells, scored 5 to Minnesota's 8. This was "King" Cole's first year at Nebraska, and the news that came over the wire that the Gopher's line had been crossed created howls of delight.

Nebraska has always been feared by the northerners, and in 1908 their fears proved true, for after a spirited contest each side returned from the field with no score. The following year Coach Williams of Minnesota and his huskies managed, after much effort, to secure 14 points on King Cole's proteges. This year's game started as a repetition of that of the year before, for the Cornhuskers held the Gophers to a tie score the first half. In 1910 Nebraska lost to Minnesota at Minneapolis by a score of 27 to 0.

McGovern was the star of the game for Minnesota, scoring 11 points. In 1911 Nebraska was again defeated at Minneapolis by a score of 21 to 3. The game was hard fought, although the Cornhuskers were badly out-

STIEHM SPRINGS SURPRISE.

By hard line bucks and end runs the varsity worked the ball into freshman territory after the kickoff, and Elwell made the first marker through the left wing. The freshmen then pepped up and Chamberlain, Rasmussen and Porter went through the varsity for consistent gains. The varsity held on their one yard line and got the ball on downs. Farley, freshman right end, recovered Beck's kick and ran is back twenty five yards for the only freshman touchdown of the scrimmage.

The scrap was fought up and down the center of the field for five minutes with honors even. Then the varsity began a slow walk towards the freshman goal line. In the shadow of their goal the freshmen stiffened, but not enough to keep Elwell from drawing third blood. Coach Stiehm then sent them all into the gym.
