GIRLS TO PLAY HOCKEY

FIRST PUBLIC EXHIBITION WILL TAKE PLACE ON ATHLETIC FIELD

GAME CALLED AT 11 WEDNESDAY

Two Crack Teams Who Have Proven Prowess Promise Peppery Exhibition for Spectators.

The first public game of hockey will be played on the athletic field between upper and lower classmen tomorrow, November 5, at 11 o'clock.

Hockey has proven to be a most popular game since introduced here and is as interesting to girls as football is to boys. Some spectators who are up-to-date on athletics say it is more exciting than football. The teams stand out distinct, the plays are evident and the game easy to understand throughout. The team consists of eleven players on each side, five forwards, three backs, two full-backs and one goal keeper.

In the game tomorrow the Seniors and Juniors will combine against the Sophomores and Freshmen.

The lineup is:

Upper classmen—Olivia Sturdevant, captain; Amy Armstrong, Freda Bishop, Mildred Butler, Carey Butler, Marie Clark, Isabel Coons, Celia Davis, Beulah Harris, Helen Randall, Vlasta Sterba, Frances Tuthill, Gertrude Van Driel.

Lower classmen—Mona Lacey, captain; Edith Brown, Edith Bryan, Mary Camp, Helen Carrol, Ruth Fitch, Jessie Downing, Eva Fish, Cornelia Frazier, Ruth Lahr, Camille Leyda, Lucile Leyda, Edith Lumsden, Grace Metcalfe, Clara Reiland, D. Rettig, Lulu Schild, Fay Tolles, Vivien Stetson, Lucile Roane.

Some of the girls are excellent players, who have learned the game here, while some very good material has come from other schools, making the games here of more than amateur order.

Olivia Sturdevant was on the hockey team at the University of Wisconsin last year, and was counted an especially good player. Helen Carrol played on the St. Margaret's College team at Toronto, Canada, and Carey Butler at Rockford College, Illinois.

In the last two games played between the upper and lower classmen each has claimed a victory, proving that they are equally matched. The game tomorrow is certain to be a good one and everyone who can should be out to see the sport. The teams will dress in different costumes so those who are not familiar with the game can readily understand the plays.

Palladians Hold Party.

The Palladians held a rousing Halloween party at the State Farm judging pavillion. The refreshments and games were suited to the season. All present declared this to be the most lively affair of its kind they had attended.

KOSMET KLUB OFFERS BIG PRIZE FOR OPERA

$150 to Be Given for Best Musical Play Submitted Before January 1.—Starts Third Season.

For their third annual production the Kosmet Klub is this season offering a larger prize than ever before. This year the Klub has decided to make the prize $150 for the best musical play submitted, the play to be complete, both in words and music.

While the general idea is to produce a play with music, more elaborate musical compositions, in the nature of light opera, will be considered. It is desirable that the music be the composition of some one person. However, single pieces will receive the same consideration and will share proportionally in the prize.

The play must be typewritten and submitted to the committee prior to January 1, 1914. The unsuccessful manuscripts will be returned to the authors immediately after the selection is made. The judging committee consists of the entire club membership.

In the competition the Klub reserves the right to make such changes in the opinion, aid or facilitate the production of completed manuscript as will, in their opinion, be for the best of the production. The Klub assumes no ownership, however, and merely offers the prize for the use of the play for the annual production.

In that the aim of the Klub is to encourage original dramatic and musical composition, the competition is thrown open to all students and to the Alumni of the University.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS GET PICTURES BEFORE THANKSGIVING

Cornhusker Insists on Having Upper Classes in Shape Before Recess.

Lots of pep, Seniors and Juniors, and get those pictures taken at Townsend's before Thanksgiving. Mr. Townsend is preparing a special Xmas folder which he will supply at no extra cost, thus making a desirable present for that best friend. The price of the first dozen pictures is three dollars, which includes the price of the cut, and one dollar for each additional dozen. Owing to the fact that the pictures have to be in so early, Mr. Townsend has arranged everything so that a person may drop in at any time of day and have their face shot without any delay. All one has to do is go in, sit down, look pleasant and the job is done.

The Cornhusker management is especially desirous that everyone cooperate on this year's book, as they wish to make the book distinctly a student product. They realize that without the hearty co-operation of all the book cannot be a success. Good snapshots and live dope is what they want. Get busy and help.

CORNHUSKERS' BANQUET FOR TEAM, DECEMBER 5

Annual Celebration in Honor of Gridiron Warriors and Nebraska Victories Will Close 1913 Season.

The date has been definitely set for the annual Cornhusker banquet Friday, December 5. Plans have been on foot since early in the fall for a good date and a good time at this affair, and the official announcement comes that on the 5th of December there will be big doings at the Lindell.

The date set comes on the Friday immediately following the Thanksgiving recess, a week after the close of the football season. The banquet will be primarily to do honor to the team then—the Missouri Valley champions for the fourth time (barring accidents). It will be one big affair in which all the men of the school will get together.

The Alumni Association is pushing the banquet this fall, and it seems probable at this time that a number of alumni will be back for the "feed" and the celebration. In fact, the alumni are getting the habit of dropping in occasionally, and there should be a goodly representation of them.

A rumor has been heard to the effect that the girls of the University are planning a Cornhusker-ess banquet of their own to be held the same night. Nothing definite has been determined about their part of the celebration as yet, however.

"TRAIL" TO BE REPLACED BY THE "CIRCUS" THIS YEAR

Kansas Game Causes Postponement Till After Christmas to Insure Good Support.

Instead of the "Trail" as given last year by the Y. W. C. A., they will give an entertainment called the "Circus" this year. It had been planned for this week, but as much of the success of the event depends upon the support of the boys, it was postponed on account of the Kansas game. Most likely it will now be given soon after Christmas.

Cornell Cuts Down on Booze.

"No wine at the Senior banquet" is the recent dictum of the Senior class of Cornell University by a vote of 295 to 213. By a second vote of 276 to 232 the class has voted to bar intoxicants from all class functions save two—the Senior Boat Ride and Senior Night. This action comes largely as the result of a persistent campaign of the University Prohibition League to abate student drinking customs.

Alumnus Makes Good.

In a recent letter to Professor Luckey, Mr. A. R. Lang mentions his promotion to the superintendency of the schools of the Canal Zone. The salary is $3,000 and a completely furnished home free. Mr. Lang received the Master's Degree in Education, University of Nebraska, 1912.

HUSKERS DISPOSE OF AMES

STIEHM'S MEN COME UP FROM BEHIND AND ADMINISTER DEFEAT—18 TO 9.

MACHINE IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Game Characterized by Fast Open Play in Which Huskers Excelled the Aggies.

With the score 9 to 0 at the end of the first quarter, Nebraska came up from behind and decisively defeated the Ames Aggies by a score of 18 to 9 on the Ames gridiron. At the end of the first quarter the Aggies were leading by 9 points and even at the end of the second quarter they were still ahead, but the Cornhuskers had garnered six points. The third quarter saw a duplication of the second and Nebraska took the lead with the score standing 12 to 9, and in the last quarter another touchdown was added which gave the Cornhuskers a very clear cut win.

Beck scored the first touchdown for the Cornhuskers. It came as the result of the first play called in the second quarter. The ball had been carried down to the Ames two-yard line in the first quarter but time was called with Nebraska in possession of the ball on the two-yard line. The first play called in the second quarter was a line smash in which Beck scored. The last two touchdowns came as the result of the steady line smashing and end running game which Nebraska has used very successfully this season.

Brennan, the speedy little quarter back of the Aggies took in one of Howard's punts and returned it 80 yards along the side lines to a touchdown. Cowan failed to kick goal. After a series of line smashes by the Aggies the succeeded in carrying the ball to Nebraska's 35-yard line, where Brennan dropped back for a drop kick which he made good. His kick was high and the steady wind carried the ball squarely between the goal posts. This was all the scoring done by the Ames team, but that was sufficient to cause the Ames rooters to act as mad but the determination with which the Cornhuskers came back in the next quarter showed that they were there to win.

Forward passes were not attempted a great deal, but Nebraska profited greatly by their use. Towle passed the ball in tip-top shape. Rutherford's playing was consistent. He failed to make gains but very few times when called upon. The Cornhusker team had no one person who played brilliantly, but all played together and very consistently. The Aggies had a star back field but they were unable to stand the severe test which they
